CITY ZONING
IS PROPOSED
IN ORDINANCE

Commission at Work For Several Months Files Report
With City Auditor

LIMITS BUILDINGS

City Divided Into Four Districts—Future Use of Districts Provided

The city zoning commission, which has been engaged for several months in preparing a zoning plan for the city of Bismarck, under appointment by the city commission which acted upon a law enacted by the 1923 session of the legislature, today filed its proposed report with the city auditor.

The commission set Friday night at 8 o'clock at the city hall as the time for a hearing on the proposed zoning plan, at which citizens may object to its provisions or may suggest changes. Following this the final report of the zoning commission will be filed with the city commission for its action. The zoning commission is composed of C. L. Young, chairman; Chris Borchert Jr., Benton Hoken, J. P. Jackson, P. C. Remington, E. A. Hughes and George F. Will.

The report is embraced in an ordinance which would regulate and limit the height and bulk of buildings hereafter to be erected, regulate and limit the use of lots, areas, classify, regulate and restrict the location of trades and industries and the location of buildings designed for specified industrial, business, residential and other uses, and for these purposes to divide the city into districts with regulations and limits affecting the districts.

Zoning has been adopted in many of the leading cities of the country, and particularly in western cities that expect a large growth in the future. A zoning plan is proposed to permit a city to grow along the right lines, avoid the ills of a city allowed to grow without a plan and eliminate the expense of making costly changes in cities in the future when growth necessitates changes.

The purpose of the zoning ordinance is set out by the commission in the following preamble:

"Whereas, it is deemed expedient, to the end that adequate light, pure air and safety from fire and other dangers may be secured, that the taxable value of land and buildings throughout the city may be conserved, that congestion in the public streets may be lessened or avoided, and that the public health, safety, comfort, morals and welfare may otherwise be promoted, all in accordance with a well considered plan for the use and development of all property throughout the city" that the ordinance proposed be adopted.

For the purpose of regulating, classifying and restricting the location of trades, industries and enterprises, etc., the city of Bismarck is divided into four districts, as follows:

- "A" Residential.
- "B" Residential.
- "C" Commercial.
- "D" Industrial.

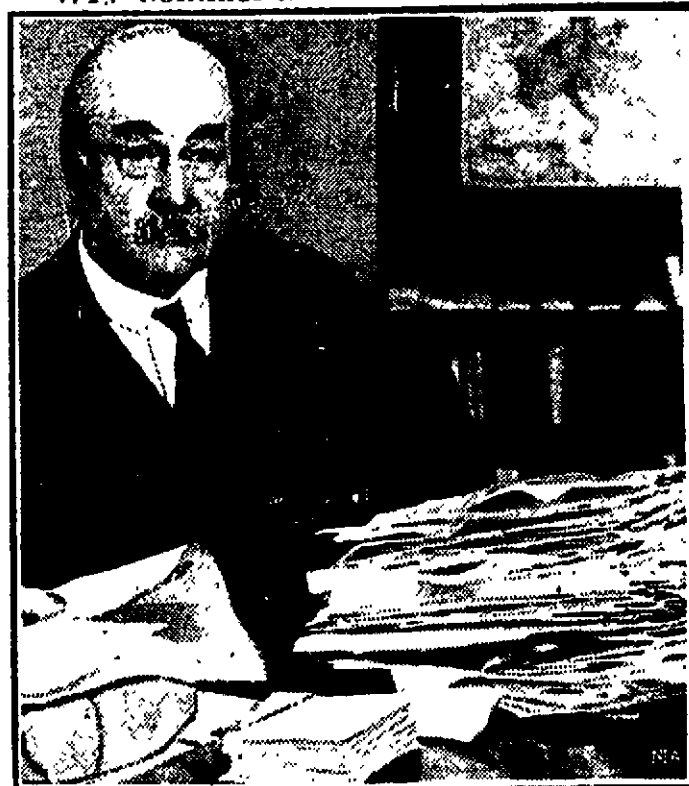

"A" District
Boundaries for each district are defined. "A" Residential district is bounded as follows: West by line between Mansfield and Cliff streets, north by city limits, east by twelfth street, north of Avenue F, by Ninth street, south of Avenue F, by the south by a line between Avenue A and B, east of First street, and a line between Broadway and Thayer west of First street.

Within this district no building shall exceed 33 feet or 2 1/2 stories in height. There shall be a front yard having a depth of not less than 15 percent of the lot depth, but not necessarily exceeding 20 feet; there shall be a rear yard having a depth of not less than 25 percent of the depth of the lot, but need not exceed 25 feet; there shall be a side yard on each side of the building not less than 10 percent of the lot width, but need not exceed eight feet; no building with its accessories shall occupy in excess of 36 percent of an inside lot, nor in excess of 45 percent of a corner lot.

New buildings and alterations to existing buildings shall be exclusively constructed and used for the following purposes: One family dwellings, two family dwellings, churches, educational institutions, schools, parks and playgrounds, conservatories, for rent or sale signs, not exceeding 10 square feet in area.

On the same lot shall be allowed the usual accessories to these buildings, not involving the conduct of a business including not more than one private garage or stable. The office of a physician, dentist, or other professional person may be located in the dwelling of such professional person; but no display other than a sign or plate not more than two feet square, bearing only the name, occupation and office hours of such person, shall be made in connection therewith.

REPUBLICANS
GAIN CONTROL
IN TAX FIGHT

Washington, May 13.—(By the A. P.)—Republicans retained control of the conference on the tax reduction bill through appointment by the Senate today of three Republicans and two Democrats, the same ratio as fixed by the House.

Pointing out the bill as passed by the Senate was modeled on the Democratic program, the main provisions of which had been proposed by Republican organization leaders, Senator Simmons, North Carolina, Democrat of the finance committee, had suggested the appointment of three Democrats and two Republicans.

Senator Simmons said he would accept the membership named by the Senate but if the Democratic sections in the bill were not protected he would ask for discharge of the Senate conference and appointment of a Democratic majority.

These provisions consist principally of the substitute corporation tax imposing a levy on undistributed profits, the Simmons income tax schedule providing for a maximum surtax of 40 percent and a proposal for full publicity of tax returns. Unless these proposals are modified administration leaders have declared the measure faces a veto.

Chairman Smoot of the finance committee announced the first meeting of the conference would be held tomorrow. About 10 days or two weeks are expected to be consumed in ironing out the differences between the House and Senate.

Washington, May 13.—(By the A. P.)—Indications developed today that the McNary-Haugen bill may come to a vote in the House this week.

The Republican steering committee virtually agreed to bring the bill out on the floor either next Friday or Saturday, with debate limited to two days.

Spokesmen for the farm bloc said they had polled the House and had sufficient votes to pass the measure.

LANGLEY, HELD
GUILTY, PLANS
ON AN APPEAL

GIVEN 2 YEARS

Covington, Ky., May 13.—Judge A. M. Cochran, in federal court here today, sentenced Congressman John W. Langley, Kentucky, convicted of conspiracy in connection with a whisky transaction in 1921, to two years in federal prison at Atlanta, Ga. Milton Lipschutz, Philadelphia, convicted with Langley, also was sentenced to two years. The same sentence was pronounced upon M. E. Huth, Alliance, Ohio, and Walter B. Carey, Canton, Ohio, indicted with Langley and Lipschutz and who pleaded guilty. Sentence was imposed after the court overruled motions for new trials. The attorney announced that an appeal would be taken, and Langley and Lipschutz were released on bond pending the filing of their appeal.

Covington, Ky., May 13.—Attorney representing Congressman J. W. Langley, Kentucky, who was found guilty by a jury in federal court here of conspiring to sell and transport liquor, appeared before Judge Cochran today and announced that they would appeal his case. Judge Cochran gave them until this afternoon to prepare their motion.

LEGION PICNIC
IS PLANNED

Stanton, N. D., May 13.—A district convention of Legionnaires from Mercer, Oliver and Dunn counties will be held June 11 at Stanton according to announcements made today. State Commander F. B. Streetor will be the chief speaker. In connection with the business program to be carried out by the Legion members, a general picnic of people from the three counties will be arranged. The program to include a baseball tournament, field and track meet, etc.

FLYERS AWAIT GOOD WEATHER
FOR NEXT JUMP

Probably Will Be Able To Jump Off to Japanese
Islands Tomorrow

Cordova, Alaska, May 13.—With calm weather forecast for today at Attu Island where three United States Army airplane cruisers have been since Thursday, after flying from Atka Island it was expected that the aviators today would hasten preparations for the next jump of their world encircling flight, an 875-mile trip to Paramushiro Island, in the Kuril group, Japan.

Gales prevented the men from inspecting, repairing and overhauling the machines at Attu up to this time. Everything will be made as nearly as perfect as possible for the longest hop of the 27,000 mile trip.

PROBERS GET
INTO QUARREL

Spencer's Line of Questioning
Is Objected To

Washington, May 13.—Investigation of the Naval Reserve lease was resumed today by the Senate subcommittee with another quarrel among committee members.

With Assistant Secretary Finney of the Interior Department on the stand, Senator Spencer, Republican, Missouri, sought to examine him on the basis of a statement put into a House hearing some weeks ago by Edwin Denby, while Secretary of the Navy. Senator Adams, Democrat, Colorado, protested and asked that a quorum of the committee be summoned. Chairman Ladd interjected that the matter Senator Spencer wanted to take up had twice been brought before the committee, and declared the Missouri Senator was not bringing it in "in the proper way."

"The action of the Senator in attempting to put in this matter," Sen. Adams added, "is an outrageous abuse of the committee."

No quorum appearing, Senator Spencer turned to another line of questioning.

BANK ROBBERS
GAIN $10,000
IN N. D. BANK

Loot State Bank of Abercrombie, Richland County, in Daring Holdup

BIND AN OBSERVER

Force Him to Witness Robbery—Escape Toward Minnesota Line

Wahpeton, N. D., May 13.—(By the A. P.)—Three robbers broke into the State Bank of Abercrombie, about 12 miles north of here, early this morning, demolished the safe and safety deposit boxes and escaped with $5,000 in cash, $4,250 in Liberty Bonds and an undetermined amount of collateral.

The robbery occurred about 1:30 a. m., and, according to Sheriff R. B. McMichael was carefully planned and one of the boldest ever perpetrated in this county. All telephone and telegraph wires were cut while a young man, employee of a telephone company, whom the robbers feared might give their plan away, was seized, gagged and bound for three hours and forced through the back window of the bank to witness the robbery.

Several posers, Sheriff McMichael said, were hot on the trail of the trio which led to Hankinson, then into Minnesota near Wheaton and Graceville.

The interior of the bank, according to Sheriff McMichael was virtually demolished with all safety deposit boxes, the contents empty. The safe was opened by the employment of large picks and bullets from the rifles the men carried.

The young telephone company employee was leaving his office at about 11 p. m., he said, when he was seized, bound and gagged by the robbers, who then took him to the Milwaukee railway shed nearby where they held him for about an hour. Then they took him to the postoffice and when he freed himself sufficiently to emit a yell they took him to the bank. Here he was forced to watch the men commit the robbery.

After using heavy picks, he related, they broke the safe open by firing three shots at its hinges. They hurriedly removed the cash and Liberty Bond contents and then rifled the safety deposit boxes. They then jumped in their waiting automobile and traveled presumably in an easterly direction.

As a result of destruction to the bank it will be forced to remain closed several days, it is believed, the sheriff said.

OPEN GRAVE TO FIND IDENTITY

Sioux Falls, S. D., May 13.—Decision to open a grave at Niobrara, Neb., in a final effort to determine whether Arthur Frazier, Indian soldier from the South Dakota Rosebud, is dead or alive was reached at a conference here of American Legion officials and representatives of the veterans bureau. The body will be exhumed on May 21.

The case of Arthur Frazier is one of the strangest in the northwest growing out of the war. He was reported dead while in service and a body, supposedly his, buried at Niobrara. Then several months ago, a man appeared, asserting he was Arthur Frazier. Government authorities doubted his statement and demanded proof before agreeing to pay $2,100 that Frazier, if alive, would be entitled to. Various proofs were presented, including admissions of recognition by wartime companions of Frazier and others, but these were not accepted as conclusive by the adjutant general.

COOLIDGE VETO
IS SUSTAINED

Washington, May 13.—President Coolidge's veto of the Bureau pension bill was sustained today in the Senate.

The vote crowned with success the first attempt of the President to block legislation with the executive veto.

The vote to override was 53 to 28, one vote less than the two-thirds required. Thirty-two Republicans and the two Farmer-Labor Senators voted to override the veto while 16 Democrats voted to sustain it.

Sensors Ladd and Frazier, Republicans, North Dakota, voted to override the veto.

DAIRY TOUR
DATES ARE SET

The dates on which the annual dairy tour will be taken to New Salem and Flasher have been fixed for June 17, 18 and 19, to Flasher on the first day, second day at New Salem and the third day at Mandan at the experimental station in Mandan.

CAMPAIGN IS GETTING UNDER
WAY IN STATE

Organization Work Precedes Speaking Campaign For The Administration

MEETS THE WORKERS

Campaign Manager to Confer With Them at District Meetings in State

The Real Republican campaign in the next few weeks before the primary of June 25 will be one without frills. It will be a case of going to the mat with facts and figures, in printed articles, speeches by cardinals and in neighborhood meetings all over the state. The campaign will be almost wholly in the hands of a volunteer organization. This is the indication of W. H. Stutsman, campaign manager and other members of the committee.

Active work of organization is now under way to precede the speaking campaign throughout the state. In Burleigh county it is planned to have school house meetings throughout the county in the last two or three weeks before the primary vote, a plan followed in previous years.

The opening of the organization drive, which was at Jamestown where Mr. Stutsman met workers from Eddy, Foster, Kidder, LaMoure and Stutsman counties, will be followed by organization meetings in various sections of the state. It is probable that district organizations will be charged with much work in directing the campaign.

Meetings planned by Mr. Stutsman for the purpose of building up county organizations, will be resumed next Saturday at Devils Lake when the campaign manager will meet workers from Benson, Nelson, Renville and Ramsey counties. The following Monday at Rugby he will meet workers from Pierce, Bottineau and McHenry counties. Tuesday at Minot he will confer with workers from Renville, Ward, Mountrail and Burke counties and on Wednesday with workers from Divide, Williams and McKenzie counties at Williston.

The campaign schedule has been arranged as yet, and probably will not for the next two weeks, the organization drive preceding the speaking campaign.

Petitions placing all Real Republican candidates formally in the case probably will be filed the last of this week, and will contain several thousand names, although but 300 are required. The candidates will include L. L. Russell of New Rockford, replacing R. J. Gardiner as a candidate for railroad commissioner.

TOURIST PAY
CAMP URGED

Directors of the Association of Commerce, in session last night, decided to recommend to the tourist camp committee that a pay-camp be maintained east of the city this year. The directors felt that by the charge of a small fee a caretaker might be kept at the camp and a large stove provided so that hot water could be kept for tourists.

The directors elected Geo. D. Mann a director of the organization, to serve until the next regular election, as a successor to P. R. Fields, who moved from the city to Grand Forks.

EXPLOSION CAUSED BY USING OIL TO
START FIRE HELD BY CORONER'S JURY
CAUSE OF 6 DEATHS IN FARM TRAGEDY

Evidence of Explosion Is Found by Coroner's Jury Investigating Davenport Tragedy North of Regan—Death List Increased to Six When Boy Dies in Hospital Here

The fire which snuffed out six lives on a Burleigh county farm north of Regan yesterday was caused by an explosion in a heating stove, when Mrs. Edna Davenport used kerosene to start a fire, in the opinion of a coroner's jury, according to County Coroner E. J. Gobel.

Mrs. Davenport and four children were burned to death in the fire which destroyed the house while William, 9 years old, was so badly burned that he died in a local hospital last night.

The coroner's jury, in its verdict, said that the fire "in the opinion of us having been caused by an explosion in the heating stove in said residence."

The version of the accident drawn by Coroner Gobel from the testimony given at an inquest held was that after Leonard Davenport and a small son had gone to the barn to do the chores, Mrs. Davenport decided to start a fire in a heating stove in which coal was used, that she poured kerosene in on hot ashes and an explosion resulted which scattered fire throughout the room, and as the flames were fanned by a heavy wind the house was consumed by fire within a few minutes.

The entire top of the stove was blown off, the coroner said, and only the base being left standing in position. Testimony was to the effect that both Mr. and Mrs. Davenport were in the habit of using kerosene to start fires.

The six bodies were to be buried at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the town hall in Regan, all side by side in the cemetery there. The charred condition of the bodies made an early burial necessary.

Father Sees Fire
The victims of the tragedy were: Mrs. Edna Davenport, aged 27; Mildred Brice, her daughter by a first marriage, aged 11; Addie Davenport, aged 5; Leo Davenport, aged three; Wilma Davenport, a year and four months, and William Bruce, aged 9, who died in a hospital here.

When the father saw the fire in the house, from the barn, he yelled "Fire to arouse his brother, Walter Davenport, and the latter's friend, John Strand, who were sleeping in the granary, and then rushed to the house, but was unable to get in the door. He then broke in a window and rescued William.

The house consisted of two rooms, a kitchen and a living and sleeping room. The body of the baby was found in the kitchen, and the baby is believed to have burned to death, while the bodies of three children were found in bed in an adjoining room, and they are believed to have been suffocated by smoke. The body of Mrs. Davenport was found close to the door between the two rooms. She probably had been injured, or at least suffocated or burned so badly immediately upon the explosion, that she was unable to save herself or children.

Neighbor's Help
The coroner's inquest, held at the home of Mr. Uhde, was conducted by States Attorney Allen. Members of the jury were Arthur McCoy, Gilbert E. Lewis and William Michel.

The Davenports had resided in the community many years, and had many friends. Neighbors turned in yesterday and gave all the help possible. Mr. Davenport was left with one step-son, all of his children having burned to death.

WINTER MAKES
NEW VISIT IN
EASTERN N. D.

No Damage to Crops, Is the Belief of Experts Reviewing Situation

Fargo, May 13.—A final rally by winter brought a May snowfall which melted rapidly to Fargo and a few other localized areas in eastern North Dakota last night and today.

The snow, which is expected to reach this vicinity today, which is likely to affect early truck and flower gardens, the U. S. Weather Observer at Moorhead reported. Telephone companies reported little damage was done while no damage will be done to crops, in the opinion of E. A. Wilson, supervisor of extension work at the Agricultural College.

With a snowfall of 2.6 inches at Grand Forks early this morning, followed this afternoon by steady rainfall there is little probability of damage to crops unless freezing weather follows, it was indicated by J. G. Diamond, statistician of the United States Bureau of Crop Estimates. Cool weather during May is greatly retarded growth of wheat, some of which is up in the Grand Forks district and a few warm days are needed to start grasses, Mr. Diamond declared.

Party of the Left Will Assume Power in France, Continue Negotiations

ONE MEETING IS OFF

Poincare Will Not Attempt to Carry Out Reparation Policy Further

Paris, May 13.—(By the A. P.)—Premier Poincare and his recently organized ministry will step from power June 4.

The premier interpreted the majority given to the party of the Left in Sunday's parliamentary election as a repudiation of his government and forthwith decided to resign. His decision was ratified at the Council of Ministers held today in the Palace of the Elisee under the chairmanship of President Millerand.

The new Chamber of Deputies will meet on June 2, elect its president, officials and secretaries, and then adjourn until the fourth when the new president will deliver the opening address. The first official business transacted will be when M. Poincare reaches his declaration of resignation.

June 4 was the earliest constitutional date the government could have chosen to resign. Today's action of the cabinet is regarded as making the meeting which was to occur between Premiers MacDonald and Poincare impossible. The leaders which will make up the leading bloc in the chamber are all understood to favor application of the Dawes reparation plan. As there is more than the mere execution of the details of this plan to be discussed between the French and British premiers, Premier Poincare considered there was no longer the necessary authority in his hands to discuss the negotiations.

Socialists Red Power
Discussion in radical and socialist circles as to the formation of the new government indicates that the leaders of the coalition bloc of the Left will insist upon the socialists receiving their full share of the honors. Already a strong movement is on foot to discuss between the French and British premiers, Premier Poincare considered there was no longer the necessary authority in his hands to discuss the negotiations.

Former Premier Briand remains the most talked of probability for the premiership. The official result is: Conservatives 20; Republicans of the Bloc National 117; Republicans of the Left 52; Democrats of the Left 75; Radicals and radical socialists 139; Republican socialists 35; socialists 102; communists 29; total 569. In addition there remains 10 seats from the college, four of which a second ballot is necessary and one seat left in doubt, making up the total.

FRANC FALLS
New York, May 13.—The outcome of the French elections, forecasting Premier Poincare's retirement and modification of France's foreign policies, brought a sharp break of more than 50 points in the price of French francs, the most drastic decline since the collapse of the currency early in March. From Saturday's level of 6.06 cents, the rate dipped as low as 5.52 and then fluctuated erratically between 5 1/2 and 5 3/4. Selling of the currency originated abroad and losses there were extended in the local market shortly after the opening.

While bankers and foreign exchange dealers were inclined to believe that a change in ministry would hasten rather than retard a repatriation settlement, they pointed out that English and German operators embraced the opportunity to sell francs short in favor of the absence of French support.

Sterling was depressed more than a cent to around 4.36 and Belgian francs yielded about 25 points to 4.26 cents.

YOUNG MAN IS ELECTROCUTED

Valley City, N. D., May 13.—Einar Hedesteen, 23, was killed almost instantly Sunday morning on the H. O. Road farm a short distance southeast of the city, when the electricity passed through a stream of water and into his body.

According to reports from the farm, a short circuit in the transformer caused wires in the barn to start a fire. Hedesteen, who came to a Red farm about a month ago from Minneapolis where his parents reside, carried a bucket of water into the barn and dashed it at the fire caused by the short circuit. The electricity passed through the stream from the wires to the bucket, killing the man almost instantly. The farm is lighted with electricity from this city.

CITY ZONING
IS PROPOSED
IN ORDINANCE

Commission at Work For Several Months Files Report
With City Auditor

LIMITS BUILDINGS
City Divided Into Four Districts—Future Use of Districts Provided

The city zoning commission, which has been engaged for several months in preparing a zoning plan for the city of Bismarck, under appointment by the city commission which acted upon a law enacted by the 1923 session of the legislature, today filed its proposed report with the city auditor.

The commission set Friday night at 8 o'clock at the city hall as the time for a hearing on the proposed zoning plan, at which citizens may object to its provisions or may suggest changes. Following this the final report of the zoning commission will be filed with the city commission for its action. The zoning commission is composed of C. L. Young, chairman; Chris Bertsch Jr., Benton Baker, J. P. Jackson, P. C. Remington, E. A. Hughes and George F. Will.

The report is embraced in an ordinance which would regulate and limit the height and bulk of buildings hereafter to be erected, regulate and limit the use of lots, areas, classify, regulate and restrict the location of trades and industries and the location of buildings designed for specified industrial, business, residential and other uses, and for these purposes to divide the city into districts with regulations and limits affecting the districts.

Purpose of Zoning
Zoning has been adopted in many of the leading cities of the country, and particularly in western cities that expect a large growth in the future. A zoning plan is proposed to permit a city to grow along the right lines, avoid the ills of a city allowed to grow without a plan and eliminate the expense of making costly changes in cities in the future when growth necessitates changes.

The purpose of the zoning ordinance is set out by the commission in the following paragraphs:
"Whereas, it is deemed expedient, to the end that adequate light, pure air and safety from fire and other dangers may be secured, that the taxable value of land and buildings throughout the City may be conserved, that congestion in the public streets may be lessened or avoided, and that the public health, safety, comfort, morals and welfare may otherwise be promoted, all in accordance with a well considered plan for the use and development of all property throughout the city" that the ordinance proposed be adopted.

For the purpose of regulating, classifying and restricting the location of trades, industries and enterprises, etc., the city of Bismarck is divided into four districts, as follows:

"A" Residential.
"B" Residential.
"C" Commercial.
"D" Industrial.

"A" District
Boundaries for each district are defined. Gales prevented the men from inspecting, repairing and overhauling the machines at Atka up to this time. Everything will be made as nearly as perfect as possible for the longest hop of the 27,000 mile trip.

Meanwhile Major Frederick L. Martin, commander of the expedition, and his mechanic, Staff Sergeant Alva L. Harvey, who crashed into a mountain 100 miles northwest of Chirikof April 29 and who reached Port Muller on the Bering sea coast May 3, were to leave today en route to Seattle and Washington, D. C.

PROBERS GET
INTO QUARREL

Spencer's Line of Questioning
Is Objected To

Washington, May 13.—Investigation of the Naval Reserve leases was resumed today by the Senate oil committee with another quarrel among committee members.

With Assistant Secretary Finney of the Interior Department on the stand, Senator Spencer, Republican, Missouri, sought to examine him on the basis of a statement put into a House hearing some weeks ago by Edwin Denby, while Secretary of the Navy. Senator Adams, Democrat, Colorado, protested and asked that a quorum of the committee be summoned. Chairman Ladd interjected that the matter Senator Spencer wanted to take up had twice been before the committee and declared the Missouri Senator was not bringing it in "in the proper way."

The action of the Senator in attempting to put in this matter, Sen. Adams added, "is an outrageous abuse of the committee."

No quorum appearing, Senator Spencer turned to another line of questioning.

LIQUOR CASES ON TRIAL
Mandan, N. D., May 13.—Judge H. L. Berry has announced a term of court for Sioux county to be held at Fort Yates beginning May 27. Seven or eight criminal cases are listed for trial, most of which involve sale of liquor to Indians.

BANK ROBBERS
GAIN $10,000
IN N. D. BANK

Loot State Bank of Abercrombie, Richland County, in Daring Holdup

HIND AN OBSERVER

Force Him to Witness Robbery—Escape Toward Minnesota Line

Wahpeton, N. D., May 13.—(By the A. P.)—Three robbers broke into the State Bank of Abercrombie, about 12 miles north of here, early this morning, demolished the safe and safety deposit boxes and escaped with $5,000 in cash, $4,250 in Liberty Bonds and an undetermined amount of collateral.

The robbery occurred about 1:30 a. m., and, according to Sheriff R. B. McMichael was carefully planned and one of the boldest ever perpetrated in this county. All telephone and telegraph wires into and from the town were cut while a young man employe of a telephone company, whom the robbers feared might give their plan away, was seized, gagged and bound for three hours and forced through the back window of the bank to witness the robbery.

Several posss, Sheriff McMichael was hot on the trail of the trio which led to Hankinson, then into Minnesota near Wheaton and Graceville.

The interior of the bank, according to Sheriff McMichael was virtually demolished with all safety deposit boxes strewn about the floor with the contents empty. The safe was wrecked by the employment of large-picks and bullets from the rifles the men carried.

The young telephone company employe was leaving his office at about 11 p. m., he said, when he was seized, bound and gagged by the robbers, who then took him to the Milwaukee railway shed nearby where they held him for about an hour. Then they took him to the postoffice and when he freed himself sufficiently to emit a yell they took him to the bank. Here he was forced to watch the men commit the robbery.

After using heavy picks, he related, they broke the safe open by firing three shots at its hinges. They hurriedly removed the cash and Liberty Bonds and fled.

The safety deposit boxes, they then jumped in their waiting automobile and traveled presumably in an easterly direction.

As a result of destruction to the bank it will be forced to remain closed several days, it is believed, the sheriff said.

OPEN GRAVE TO
FIND IDENTITY

Sioux Falls, S. D., May 13.—Decision to open a grave at Niobrara, Neb., in a final effort to determine whether Arthur Frazier, Indian soldier from the South Dakota Rosebud, is dead or alive was reached at a conference here of American Legion officials and representatives of the veterans bureau. The body will be exhumed on May 21.

The case of Arthur Frazier is one of the strangest in the northwest growing out of the war. He was reported dead while in service and a body, supposedly his, buried at Niobrara. Then several months ago, a man appeared, claiming he was Arthur Frazier. Government authorities doubted his statement and demand proof before agreeing to pay $2,000 that Frazier, if alive, would be entitled to. Various proofs were presented, including admissions of recognition by wartime companions of Frazier and others, but these were not accepted as conclusive by the adjutant general.

COOLIDGE VETO
IS SUSTAINED

Washington, May 13.—President Coolidge's veto of the Bursum pension bill was sustained today in the Senate.

The vote crowned with success the first attempt of the President to block legislation with the executive veto.

The vote to override was 53 to 28, one vote less than the two-thirds required. Thirty-two Republicans and two Farmer-Labor Senators voted to override the veto while 16 Democrats voted to sustain it.

Sensors Ladd and Frazier, Republicans, North Dakota, voted to override the veto.

DAIRY TOUR
DATES ARE SET

The dates on which the annual dairy tour will be taken to New Salem and Flasher have been fixed for June 17, 18 and 19. To Flasher on the first day, second day at New Salem and the third day in Mandan at the experimental station in Mandan.

CAMPAIGN IS GETTING UNDER WAY IN STATE

Organization Work Precedes Speaking Campaign For The Administration

MEETS THE WORKERS

Campaign Manager to Confer With Them at District Meetings in State

The Real Republican campaign in the next few weeks before the primary of June 25 will be one without frills. It will be a case of going to the mat with facts and figures, in printed articles, speeches by candidates and in neighborhood meetings all over the state. The campaign will be carried wholly in the hands of a volunteer organization. This is the indication of W. H. Stutsman, campaign manager, and other members of the committee.

Active work of organization is now under way to precede the speaking campaign throughout the state. In Burleigh county it is planned to have a house meeting through the county in the last two or three weeks before the primary vote, a plan followed in previous years.

The opening of the organization drive, which was at Jamestown where Mr. Stutsman met workers from Eddy, Foster, Kidder, LaMoore and Stutsman counties, will be followed by organization meetings in various sections of the state. It is probable that district organizations will be charged with much work in directing the campaign.

Meetings planned by Mr. Stutsman, for the purpose of building up county organizations, will be resumed next Saturday at Devils Lake where the campaign manager will meet workers from Benson, Nelson, Rollette and Ramsey counties. The following Monday at Rugby he will meet workers from Pierce, Bottineau and McHenry counties, Tuesday at Minot he will confer with workers from Renville, Ward, Mountrail and Burke counties and on Wednesday with workers from Divide, Williams and McKenzie counties at Williston.

No speakers' schedule has been arranged as yet, and probably will not for the next two weeks, the organization drive preceding the speaking campaign.

Petitions placing all Real Republican candidates formally on the ballot probably will be filed the last of this week, and will contain several thousand names, although but 300 are required. The candidates will include L. L. Russell of New Rockford, replacing R. J. Gardiner as a candidate for railroad commissioner.

TOURIST PAY
CAMP PURGED

Directors of the Association of Commerce, in session last night, decided to recommend to the tourist camp committee that a pay-camp be maintained east of the city this year. The directors felt that by the charge of a small fee a caretaker might be kept at the camp and a large stove provided so that hot water could be kept for tourists.

The directors elected George D. Mann a director of the organization, to serve until the next regular election, as a successor to P. R. Fields, who moved from the city to Grand Forks.

EXPLOSION CAUSED BY USING OIL TO
START FIRE HELD BY CORONER'S JURY
CAUSE OF 6 DEATHS IN FARM TRAGEDY

Evidence of Explosion Is Found by Coroner's Jury Investigating Davenport Tragedy North of Regan—Death List Increased to Six When Boy Dies in Hospital Here

The fire which snuffed out six lives on a Burleigh county farm north of Regan yesterday was caused by an explosion in a heating stove, when Mrs. Edna Davenport used kerosene to start a fire, in the opinion of a coroner's jury, according to County Coroner E. J. Gobel.

Mrs. Davenport and four children were burned to death in the fire which destroyed the house while William, 9 years old, was so badly burned that he died in a local hospital last night.

The coroner's jury, in its verdict, said that the fire "in the opinion of us having been caused by an explosion in the heating stove in said residence."

The version of the accident drawn by Coroner Gobel from the testimony given at an inquest held was that after Leonard Davenport and a small son had gone to the barn to do the chores, Mrs. Davenport decided to start a fire in a heating stove in which coal was used, that she poured kerosene in on hot ashes and an explosion resulted which scattered fire throughout the room, and as the flames were fanned by a heavy wind the house was consumed by fire within a few minutes.

The entire top of the stove was blown off, the coroner said, only the base being left standing in position. Testimony was to the effect that both Mr. and Mrs. Davenport were in the habit of using kerosene to start fires.

The six bodies were to be buried at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the town hall in Regan, all side by side in the cemetery there. The charred condition of the bodies made an early burial necessary.

Father Sees Fire
The victims of the tragedy were: Mrs. Edna Davenport, aged 27; Mildred Brice, her daughter by a first marriage, aged 11; Addie Davenport, aged 5; Leo Davenport, aged three; Wilma Davenport, a year and four months, and William Brice, aged 9, who died in a hospital here.

When the father saw the fire in the house, from the barn, he yelled "fire" to arouse his brother, Walter Davenport, and the latter's friend, John Strand, who were sleeping in the granary, and then rushed to the house, but was unable to get in the door. He then broke in a window and rescued William.

The house consisted of two rooms, a kitchen and a living and sleeping room. The body of the baby was found in the kitchen, and the baby is believed to have burned to death, while the bodies of three children were found in bed in an adjoining room, and they are believed to have been suffocated by smoke. The body of Mrs. Davenport was found close to the door between the two rooms. She probably had been injured or at least suffocated or burned so badly immediately upon the explosion, that she was unable to save herself or children.

Neighbor's Help
The coroner's inquest, held at the home of Mr. Uhde, was conducted by States Attorney Allen. Members of the jury were Arthur McCoy, Gilbert E. Lewis and William Mitchellson.

The Davenports had resided in the community many years and had many friends. Neighbors turned in yesterday and gave all the help possible. Mr. Davenport was left with one step-son, all of his children having burned to death.

WINTER MAKES
NEW VISIT IN
EASTERN N. D.

No Damage to Crops, Is the Belief of Experts Reviewing Situation

Fargo, May 13.—A final rally by winter brought a May snowfall which melted rapidly to Fargo and a few other localized areas in eastern North Dakota last night and today and a heavy frost is expected to reach this vicinity today which is likely to affect early truck and flower gardens, the U. S. Weather Observer at Moorhead reported. Telephone companies reported little damage was done while no damage will be done to crops, in the opinion of E. A. Wilson, supervisor of extension work at the Agricultural College.

With a snowfall of 2.6 inches at Grand Forks early this morning, followed this afternoon by steady rainfall there is little probability of damage to crops unless freezing weather follows, it was indicated by J. G. Diamond, a statistician of the United States Bureau of Crop Estimates. Cool weather during May has greatly retarded growth of wheat, some of which is up in the Grand Forks district and a few warm days are needed to start grasses, Mr. Diamond declared.

FARGO COMPANY BUILDS NEW BRIDGE NEAR ZAP

The Fargo Bridge and iron company has begun the construction of a new bridge across the Knife river in Mercer county, four miles south of Zap.

The contract for the bridge, which is to cost $6,800, was awarded to the Fargo organization last fall.

OPPOSITION IS SAID FRIENDLY
TO DAWES PLAN

Party of the Left Will Assume Power in France, Continue Negotiations

ONE MEETING IS OFF

Poincare Will Not Attempt to Carry Out Reparation Policy Further

Paris, May 13. (By the A. P.)—Premier Poincare and his recently organized ministry will step from power June 4.

The premier interpreted the majority given to the party of the Left in Sunday's parliamentary election as a repudiation of his government and forthwith decided to resign. His decision was ratified at the Council of Ministers held today in the Palace of the Elysee under the chairmanship of President Millerand.

The new Chamber of Deputies will meet on June 2, elect its president, officials and secretaries, and then adjourn until the fourth when the new president will deliver the opening address. The first official business transacted will be when M. Poincare reaches his declaration of resignation.

June 4 was the earliest constitutional date the government could have chosen to resign.

Today's action of the cabinet is regarded as making the meeting which was to occur between Premiers MacDonald and Poincare impossible. The leaguers which will make up the leading bloc in the Chamber are all understood to favor application of the Dawes reparation plan. As there is more than the mere French in the details of this plan to be discussed, the new Chamber and British premiers, Premier Poincare considered there was on longer the necessary authority in his hands to discuss the negotiations.

Socialists Seek Power
Discussion in radical and socialist circles as to the formation of the new government indicates that the leaders of the coalition bloc of the Left will insist upon the socialists receiving their full share of the honors. Already a strong movement is on foot in favor of a socialist as president of the chamber.

This project seems likely to bring on the first clash between the majority and opposition. In view of the small margin the radicals and radical socialists can muster without the help of the more moderate elements some doubt is entertained as to whether a socialist can be selected at this post, even if the radicals were willing to support him.

Former Premier Briand remains the most talked of probability for the premiership.

The official result is: Conservatives 117; Republicans of the Bloc National 117; Republicans of the Left 52; Democrats of the Left 75; Radicals and radical socialists 130; Republican socialists 35; socialists 102; communists 29; total 569. In addition there remains 10 seats from the college, four on which a second ballot is necessary and one seat yet in doubt, making up the total.

FRANC FALLS

New York, May 13.—The outcome of the French elections, foreshadowing Premier Poincare's retirement and modification of France's foreign policies, brought a sharp break of more than 50 points in the price of French francs, the most drastic decline since the collapse of the currency early in March. From Saturday's level of 6.06 cents, the rate dipped as low as 5.52 and then fluctuated erratically between 5 1/2 and 5 3/4. Selling of the currency originated abroad and losses there were extended in the local market shortly after the opening.

While bankers and foreign exchange dealers were inclined to believe that a change in ministry would hasten rather than retard a reparations settlement, they pointed out that English and German operators embraced the opportunity to sell francs short in favor of the absence of French support.

Sterling was depressed more than a cent to around 4.36 and Belgian francs yielded about 25 points to 4.76 cents.

YOUNG MAN IS
ELECTROCUTED

Valley City, N. D., May 13.—Einar Hedensten, 23, was killed almost instantly Sunday afternoon on the R. O. Road farm a short distance southeast of the city, when the electricity passed through a stream of water and into his body.

According to reports from the farm, a short circuit in the transformer caused wires in the barn to start a fire. Hedensten, who came to the Road farm about a month ago from Minneapolis where his parents reside, carried a bucket of water into the barn and dashed it at the fire caused by the short circuit. The electricity passed through the stream from the wires to the bucket, killing the man almost instantly. The farm is lighted with electricity from this city.

COST OF EDUCATION

Take it out on the schools seems to be the slogan of the tax reductionists. Just why the schools are singled out has never been justified. A survey of expenditures in the various political subdivisions will show that in most instances the school districts are not the worst offenders and that on the part of school officials there has been an honest attempt to cut down expenditures. Of course this does not apply to our institutions of higher education where wasteful duplications are adding heavily to the burdens of government. Money spent duplicating courses at Fargo and Grand Forks applied to the common schools would bring a rich return in extending elementary education to the masses.

Actual figures on the cost of education considered per se without comparison seem high. In the United States there was spent in 1910, $498,019,738 and in 1920 the cost had soared to $1,219,885,296. These figures were gathered recently by the Educational Finance Inquiry under the auspices of the American Council of Education.

But the increase when compared with mounting costs in other fields is not disproportionate. Total governmental expenditures have increased four-fold; national defense in 1920 was ten times what it was in 1910 due of course to the war; highway expenditures have nearly tripled.

The increase in the cost of education in 1920 over 1910 was 145 per cent. Rents went up 175 per cent; commodities, 154; building materials, 184; and building labor 203. These contrasts establish the fact that educational costs in comparison are really low.

If the tax reductionists wanted really to lower taxes in North Dakota a study of payroll expenditures would be edifying. Weed out the unnecessary employees attached to the payroll of every political subdivision. Check up purchases of supplies and install business methods in the purchasing departments. There are a hundred ways that will yield greater tax reduction than curtailing expenditures for education.

CARDS

Four veteran card players are written up in Boston. Every Friday for 35 years they have been meeting for a game of "45." And they haven't yet decided which is champion. The Chinese go them one better, frequently dragging a chess game through several generations.

A near-sighted critic has figured up how many hours the four card players have wasted. To claim the time is wasted, is ridiculous. There is no better investment of time than a reasonable period devoted to relaxation, especially a hobby. One purpose of life is to be happy. Work is only a means to an end, not the primary goal.

WATER

France is hauling 32 million tons of freight a year on her rivers and canals. Here in America we ship more than that on our Great Lakes. But river and canal traffic is in its infancy. It had a big start long ago, especially on the Ohio and Mississippi. Railroads came and took business from the rivers. But river traffic is reviving rapidly. Property developed, and coupled with an elaborate system of canals, we'd have water routes that would by competition compel the steam railroads to be more efficient or perish.

Water is one key to the transportation problem.

PLUNGERS

In 1919 and 1920 seven and a half billion dollars worth of new oil stocks were offered to investors.

New oil stock issues now are averaging about 75 million dollars a month, or not quite a billion a year. Public learned a bitter lesson.

Some oil stocks are good investments, undoubtedly. But many others are not, as investors with singed wings will testify. More money has gone into the ground in recent years than was taken out.

ALCOHOL

A tragedy of the sea: The steamer Maria, liquor laden, ran into a tropical storm after leaving Havana. Her coal gave out. As a substitute fuel, the captain used the firewater, $250,000 worth. Cargo counts for nothing when life is at stake. Tons of diamonds would be burned, if necessary, to get a ship to port.

When whisky can run the engines and drive a ship through a storm, a reader gets wondering if the day is coming when alcohol will take the place of gasoline as auto fuel. It already has, to considerable extent, in Cuba.

JEST

The announcer at KDKA said Adam was the first radio fan, since he made a loud speaker out of his rib. Critics are panning him now, claiming it's an old joke. What if it is? Old familiar jokes lose best. And only the best survives, especially true of jokes. Furthermore, as in burlesque, a new generation is constantly growing up that has never heard the old stuff. Why are so many people bitter against old and established things? Is it vanity, this worshipping of the new?

QUITS RAILROADING

Engineer Tracy Wheeler quits railroading after 42 years in which he piloted locomotives two and a half million miles. That's almost equivalent to 1000 trips across the continent. At 70 he goes on the pension list. His has been a life of real service and big responsibility. A good job well done. Civilization is carried on the shoulders of men like Tracy Wheeler. They are far more important than the professional limelight posers, such as public affairs lunatics.

German elections seem reassuring. Returns would indicate that firmer hands were about to cope with the financial problems of that nation. The possibility of an acceptance of the principles, at least, of the Dawes report is strong.

NO IDLE WARNING

Since the Democrats of the Senate joined with the LaFollette radicals in putting over an amendment to the revenue bill which would open up all income tax reports to public inspection, it is interesting to note the reaction of the Democratic New York World to the proposal, and the warning it gives to the Senate:

It was accepted as a basic principle under the income tax law that all returns must be held strictly private by the Internal Revenue Bureau. Even other departments of the Government were not given access to them for official purposes. In jumping to the opposite extreme the Senate has acted ill-advisedly.

To make all tax returns public records open to inspection, as the Norris amendment provides, would work grave injustice and open the way for serious abuses. The purpose of the tax law is to raise revenue for the Government. It was never intended to serve as a means of spreading information about the methods or operations of individuals or corporations. To throw the returns open to inspection as public records is to invite sharp practices in business, for which the Government will be directly responsible.

Instead of adopting safeguards making more difficult dishonesty among taxpayers, the Senate is only adding another incentive to evasion. Once privacy is violated the bars will have been lowered for new forms of fraud and legal trickery. It will not be long then before the bootlegging of tax returns becomes a popular industry.

The one thing about which the country is really concerned is the reduction of taxes. It is impatient of delay. To the Senate it should be obvious that by every false or dubious move that it makes it gives Mr. Coudage a fresh excuse for vetoing the bill on account of the rejection of the Mellon rates.

And the New York World is issuing no idle warning when it intones that every "false or dubious move" only makes a veto more probable. The country wants real, not spurious, tax reduction. It wants reduction which will relieve the burden of both direct and indirect taxation. The World might have added that unless Congress gives the country a plan which will conform to the Mellon plan in principle that is giving the President the best possible issue with which to go before the voters in the campaign just ahead—Fargo Forum.

THE MAN WHO BATTLES DEATH

Consider now the end of the physician of the little town of Geddes, S. D., who went out on December 11, 1923, to answer a sick call and who never returned. That is not quite right, if his recrudescence may be considered in the light of return. When the waters of the little creek were freed from ice and fell below their usual level, the top of an automobile came to light, and farmer boys investigating, found his dead body Monday sitting in the car with the implements with which he fought death. He had been in the car through the darkness and failed to see that a bridge was "out" and drove on his accustomed way and into the lethal waters.

There has been at times a spirit of scorn in the attitude of those who knew no better, for the country physician. He was not up-to-date, a bit foggyish, and lacked the time to keep abreast with the marvelous march of medical progress. But to wrest a living out of his arduous practice, he must have a vision of social service as the guide and recompense. We have not sneered so much at him since Ian McLaren wrote "A Doctor of the Old School" or since J. M. Barrie drew the picture of "Dr. McLean" in "The Little Minister." These made us see what we should have seen without their aid, the homely figure far too shabby to be heroic, too worn to elicit our admiration, in a daily battle with the master of all monarchs—Death.

In the tragic death of Dr. Fred E. Fyle, of Geddes we see something of the consciousness of the lives of those who survive and who serve, and who live and who die, unheeded and unnamed.—St. Paul Dispatch.

RYE TO YIELD BETTER REPORT OF OBSERVER

However, Total Winter Crop To be Harvested, Will be Less Than Last Year

SEEDING GOES AHEAD

Progress Better Than One Year Ago, Says U. S. Agricultural Statistician

Grand Forks, May 13.—Although the May 1 condition of North Dakota's winter rye crop promises a better yield per acre than that of the 1923 crop the acreage to be harvested will be about 26 per cent less than last year according to the May 1 crop report issued by J. G. Diamond, of Grand Forks, agricultural statistician for the federal division of crop and livestock estimates, which forecasts a production of 10,197,000 bushels compared with 10,046,000 in 1923 and 13,219,000 bushels the 1917-1921 average. Final out-turn of this year's crop it is pointed out will be larger or smaller than the May 1 forecast according as conditions developing during the remainder of the season prove more or less favorable to the crop than average. 56 per cent of spring seeding and planting according to the report was completed by May 1, compared with 32 per cent a year ago and the 10 year average of 51, while the per cent of plowing for spring planting and seeding completed by May 1, is placed at 65 per cent, compared with 45 per cent a year ago and the 10 year average of 57. Livestock losses during the past year from disease were about average, and from exposure were unusually light while the spring condition of livestock is average as shown by the report. Details follow:

Rye Crop Prospect
Out of a fall sown acreage of 1,005,000 there is estimated to remain for harvest according to our May 1 estimates 953,000 acres, compared with 1,288,000 acres harvested in 1923 and 1,570,000 acres the 1917-21 average. May 1 condition is placed at 81 per cent of a normal compared with 83 a year ago and 87 the 10 year average condition on May 1. The present condition represents a gain of 4 points over that of a month ago, as a result of favorable April moisture. Abandonment has been less than expected, the crop now showing fairly good stands in places where a month ago it appeared killed out. The present condition interprets a yield of about 10.7 bushels per acre, forecasting a production of 10,197,000 bushels compared with 10,046,000 in 1923 and 13,219,000 the 1917-21 average. Final out-turn may be larger or smaller than this forecast according as conditions developing during the remainder of the season may prove more or less favorable to the crop than average. In the past 17 years final out-turns have been 6 times above once the same and 10 times below the May 1 forecasts.

Plowing and Seeding
Although field work in North Dakota obtained an early start some of this advantage was lost during April when there were too many days with rain to permit progress for more than a few days at a time, and during the last week, heavy rains and snows checked field work entirely. Progress, however, has been much better than a year ago and is above the average as measured by the percentage of plowing and of seeding and planting completed by May 1. Our reports show 56 per cent of spring seeding and planting to be completed by May 1, compared with 32 per cent a year ago and the 10 year average of 51. The percent of plowing for spring seeding and planting that was completed by May 1, is placed at 65 per cent compared with 45 per cent a year ago and the 10 year average of 57. Compared with recent years this present season compared closely with that of 1921 when 67 per cent of seeding and planting and 73 per cent of plowing was reported completed by May 1. The year 1918 on this basis had the earliest spring when 76 per cent of seeding and 73 per cent of plowing were completed by this date, while 1915 was a close second.

INDIA NEEDS SCIENCE

Calcutta, May 13.—More science and less politics, this is the remedy prescribed for Indian unrest by Viscount Leverhulme who recently arrived here from England. He was optimistic regarding India's future, but condemned the policy of tariff protection as economically unsound.

"I don't think the people of India are suited to working in factories," Lord Leverhulme said. "They seem to be built for the open air. Industry in concentrated form is more suited to a temperate climate. One thing India does want badly is the application of science, engineering and business and principles. More science and less politics, I should say, are the great needs of India. If she applied scientific principles to her agriculture, the increased yield would bring her wealth and prosperity. It would lay up an unexploited reserve and bring her the contentment which she seeks politically."

"But if the government of India puts on protection, up will go the cost of living. A low cost of living lies at the root of a people's well-being. If living is made dearer, a vicious circle will be created. I believe with President Coudage that the business of a manufacturer is not altogether to produce goods, but that it is also to produce men. I do not claim for co-partnership that it will decrease strikes and create contentment. But I do claim that it produces men, creates ambition and arouses interest and energy."

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO RUTH ELLINGTON

DEAR RUTH:

Well, here I am in the bosom of my family, and one of them at least seems absolutely a stranger to me.

My dear, my dear, those pearls have bobbed up again. Although Karl has given Alice a magnificent string which cost a hundred thousand dollars, I have reason to believe that she covets mine as well. The other night she and Karl and I were sitting alone at a restaurant table. Alice had made such a fuss about her pearls that out of sheer perverseness I put that string of mine on. The moment her eyes caught them, a peculiar look came on her face, and she said in a rather tight-lipped manner to Karl:

"Karl, dear, now that I see Leslie's pearls, I think they are more beautiful than mine. Of course her string is not as long, but the pearls seem of better quality."

Karl looked very uncomfortable, and I tried to change the subject of conversation by saying:

"Did you and your friend, Betty Stokely, ever finish that novel you were writing?"

"No," she answered. "Betty, you know, married a title, and you got in such a mixup with your pearls that I didn't dare write it up for fear John would find it out."

"Any time you want to sell your string, Leslie, I'm quite sure Karl will repurchase them for me."

"I couldn't think of it," said Karl.

hastily. "You know, of course, Alice, that if you want another string of pearls I shall be glad to buy them for you, but that string that Leslie has on is concerned with associations only of her."

Alice looked furious, and Karl miserable. For a moment I wished that I could throw them some annoyance or ill luck.

Nothing more, however, was said about them during the supper, but when I got to my room that night, Alice came through the connecting door. She looked gorgeously beautiful in a pink chiffon velvet negligee, but there was a frown on her face and she fairly towered above me.

"Leslie," she said, "I've come to ask a favor of you. I want you to give me that string of pearls that Karl gave you, for my wedding present."

I must have looked surprised at her request, for she continued:

"Don't care if Karl asked you not to give them to me. I don't care if you do think I'm jealous of Karl. I am not happy when I see his pearls about your neck and know that he bought them one by one over the long years that he loved you, while mine, though perhaps more expensive was the ordinary gift that a man who had plenty of money might make to some woman who wanted them."

What shall I do, Ruth? Shall I give them to her?

LESLIE.

GIVE SPECIAL EDUCATION FOR FOREIGN TRADE

New York, May 13.—For the first time in the history of American foreign trade, business men, students, and heads of college and university departments of foreign trade courses, will be brought together at the Eleventh National Foreign Trade Convention in Boston, June 15 and 16, for the purpose of improving the foreign trade career.

Announcement was made yesterday of the program which has been arranged for a review of this situation, with an attempt to reform student courses in a practical manner to the profit of both employer and foreign worker.

Investigation of this career, which has been during the past winter by the National Foreign Trade Council, the organizer of the Boston convention, has revealed a lack of co-ordination between employers and the sixty-old universities and colleges in the United States training men for a foreign trade career.

It is stated, on the one hand, that there are many thousands of positions in the overseas business of the United States which require American foreign trade business organizations, but that to date no adequate means has been evolved for finding out what the employers require in making a fit man for a fit job.

The importance of this subject, education for foreign trade, in respect to the entire convention, is shown by the fact that this subject will lead the entire group session program, beginning the afternoon of the first day of the convention.

T. R. Savelly, chairman, School of Economics, University of Virginia, will open this session by an address on "What Should Be Included in a Single General Course on Foreign Trade." This will be followed by practical discussion of "Putting the Foreign Trade Student to Work," beginning with "The New Four Solution," by Eugene Van Cleef, chairman, Foreign Commerce Division, Ohio State University. He will be followed by J. Anton de Haas, School of Commerce, New York University, who will discuss "European Practices."

Chauncey D. Snow, manager, Foreign Commerce Department, Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America, will then explain "How Chambers of Commerce and Trade Organizations Can Assist."

Finally, Henry Howard, chairman, Foreign Trade Committee, Cleveland Chamber of Commerce, will open the employers' side of the question by saying "What Business Men Think About It."

I wish to say that FOLEY PILLS worked O. K. on me in a couple of hours and the pains left me at once. I took a couple of them in the afternoon, went to bed and had a good night's sleep and have slept good ever since," writes Con Thiel, 118E. Columbia St., Fort Wayne, Indiana.

Tom Sims Says

Women who know how to raise children are kept too busy to tell.

A summer resort is a place where everybody is from somewhere.

New York is a place where you can live all your life and still feel you are away from home.

This is the time of the year the college seniors worry over how much money bricklayers are making.

The balance of power in Europe depends chiefly upon their balance of mind.

We like winter better than summer because the flies don't.

If they don't hurry up with those political conventions, the weather will be too warm to worry over who is nominated.

Many summer resorts advertise as the playground of the nation; when, really, the front porch is that.

In Los Angeles, a man was arrested for spanking his wife. Business had their advantages.

Girls! Use Lemon To Whiten Skin

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Oil of White, when any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whiteners, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself.

Esther Hollst Wins First In School Contest

Miss Esther Hollst was awarded the cash prize of $5 offered for the one receiving the first place in the declamatory contest by the High School, held yesterday afternoon at the High School assembly room at 3:45.

Seven were entered in the contest and each entrant had a splendid composition which was read. Those entered were Marian Ackermann, Charlie Belk, Ellen Cogan, Edna Hall, Esther Hollst, Olga Neugebauer and Philip Rosen.

Principal Bublitz presided at the meeting and stated that the contest was a revelation to the faculty of the school as they were not aware of the talent in the various classes. He further stated that the school would make no effort to send a delegate to Grand Forks this year as the school found no funds for this purpose.

Hospital Day Observed Here

Hospital Day was observed by both of the local hospitals of the city yesterday. Open house was kept at both institutions and at each a large number of callers were shown through the institution and various features of the work explained by those in charge of the departments.

At the St. Alexius about 100 visitors were received and 20 babies that had been born there during the past year were weighed, measured and examined during the afternoon. The parlor had been arranged for an up to date nursery for the occasion.

Ten and wafers were served the visitors from a pretty tea table arranged in the hall at which Mrs. E. E. Morris presided during the afternoon.

The following little poem was composed by Francis Dudgeon, 12 year old patient in the St. Alexius hospital, yesterday afternoon. He is the son of H. G. Dudgeon of Glen Ullin, N. Dak.

HOSPITAL DAY
On Hospital Day the Twelfth of May
The people come and go
And many flock to the baby show
They're men and women, girls and boys
To bring the babies pretty toys
And everyone feels bright and gay
For it is the happy hospital day
Outside the trees are fine
Inside is laughter and good time
It is a time for joy and play
This wonderful Twelfth of May.

SELECT DATE FOR INITIATION
Sunday, June 1, has been selected as the date for the initiation of a class of nearly 25 candidates into the Catholic Daughters of America. Plans have been made for the holding of a banquet at one of the local hotels on Sunday evening, complimentary to the class of candidates. Mrs. C. O. Smith, of Fargo, state grand regent will be present as an honor guest at the initiation exercises and banquet.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PICNIC
The Junior and Senior classes of the local high school held their annual picnic at Ward's Grove last evening. The faculty were honored guests at this affair and while some were unable to attend the picnic proved a very happy affair in spite of the rather cool evening.

COMMITTEE NAMED
Appointment of a committee to have charge of playground work on the west side this year, made jointly by representatives of the Women's Community Council and the Association of Commerce, was announced today as follows: Mrs. R. M. Bergeson, chairman; Mrs. J. G. Wallace, Mrs. C. W. Moses, Mrs. W. E. Cole, Overt Olson, Dr. M. W. Roan.

TO GIVE CARD PARTY
The Royal Neighbors will give a card party next Monday evening at the Odd Fellows hall. The committee are busy now making some novel plans for the affair. The hostesses will wear costumes from every nation, it is said.

LEAVE FOR DICKINSON
Among those going to attend the state convention of the P. E. O. Sisterhood which is being held in Dickinson today and tomorrow were Mrs. P. J. Meyer, Mrs. C. L. Young, and Mrs. H. A. Dobler.

SUNSHINE CLUB TO MEET
A regular meeting of the Sunshine Club will be held tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. B. Nupen, 1006 Fourth Street.

TO VISIT HERE
Mrs. Louise Guss, who has been spending the winter in California arrived this morning to make a visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Max Reinicke.

LOCAL BOYS INITIATED
Robert Birdzell and William Ankerman both well known in this city were given the initiatory degree by Ivanhoe chapter of the Order of Demolay of Grand Forks, recently, at a special meeting of the chapter. George Russ and Herbert Zvorist of this city, who are students at the State University are both members of this Chapter and hold the Demolay Degree.

ST. GEORGE'S GUILD TO MEET
St. George's Guild will meet with the Vestry at the Parish house this evening at 8 o'clock, to discuss plans for the convocation to be held in Bismarck, June 18-14.

Announce Date For Concert By Juvenile Band

The Juvenile Band Concert will give two performances on May 30 at the city Auditorium. The band under the direction of L. C. Sorlien is now rehearsing four times a week and the membership of the band numbers 40 pieces.

A matinee performance will be given at 3 p. m. on the afternoon of the 30th of this month for the children and the evening performance at 8:15 p. m. A splendid program has been arranged and the High School orchestra will appear in concert with the band at this program, the same as at the previous concert given by the Juvenile Band.

A regular practice is held each Monday evening at 7:15; on Wednesday at 6:00 p. m.; Friday at 7:15 p. m. and on Saturday forenoon from 9:30 until noon. Parents are asked to keep these dates and hours in mind and help by getting the children to practice regularly and promptly.

SELLING TICKETS
L. C. Sorlien, director of the Juvenile Band and high school orchestra was instrumental in securing the Concordia College choir which will give a concert at the high school auditorium, on Friday evening, May 16, under the auspices of the High School.

The glee clubs are busily selling tickets in order to secure the cash prizes and free entrance ticket to the concert.

The public are asked to patronize this concert for they are assured of a splendid evening's entertainment and will be helping the piano fund of the high school.

TO GIVE CARD PARTY
The U. C. T. Auxiliary will hold their regular monthly social meeting, tomorrow evening, at 8 o'clock at the Elks' Hall. Cards will be played and all members of the Auxiliary are asked to be present with their friends. A social hour will follow the game.

'BETTER HOMES' EXHIBIT PLAN IS EXPLAINED

Principles of Visual Education Will Be Shown to People of City

REASONS FOR CAMPAIGN

"The principles of visual education will be used in the Better Homes in America Movement, observed in Bismarck this week," said Mrs. Fred Copelin, chairman of the Committee on Demonstrations. The business men of the city will show in their windows rooms arranged with regard to the principles which should be considered in furnishing a home. Mrs. Copelin announces that these demonstrations will be on display Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of this week, and asks that the home-makers of Bismarck and vicinity plan to visit these exhibits.

Some of the reasons for the demonstration as outlined by the National organization are:

1. To demonstrate the advantages of home ownership. Only 15 percent of the families of America are home owners.

2. To assist and encourage home-makers and homebuilders. Over 90 percent of the women of America do their own home work.

3. To improve the home environment, thereby helping to build character.

4. To stimulate sensible and appropriate purchasing for home improvement.

5. To strengthen wholesome family life by making homes more convenient, comfortable and attractive. The character of a people is largely affected by the homes in which they dwell. The influences of early childhood are those of the family circle. The warmest memories of later years, and the deepest experiences of human life center in the home. It gives a sense of family unity and individuality. It provides for children. The house should always be a fitting symbol of the ideals and aspirations of the family which it shelters.

Persons who must furnish a house face four distinct problems: First, the objects must suit the house in size, coloring and style; second, the pieces must harmonize with one another, and be comfortable and well made; third, they must suit the requirements of the family; fourth, they must fit the family purse.

This week there will be three addresses broadcasted on the Better Homes Movement from some of the largest broadcasting stations, by authorities on this subject.

The first will be given this evening by Dr. James Ford from New York City broadcasting station, WEAS which will be given at 8 p. m. Eastern Standard time.

The second will be given by Edwin H. Brown from station WLAG, Minneapolis, Wednesday evening at 8:45 Standard time. The third listed is by Grace Abbott from New York City, station WEAS, Saturday evening, May 17 at 7 o'clock Eastern Standard time.

Scout News

TROOP NO. 1

Last Tuesday a general meeting of all Scout troops was held at the First Baptist church, and it was decided definitely that the summer camp for the Boy Scouts would be held at Carlyle Lake.

The three Scout troops were assigned parts of the city for which they were to make maps for the clean up week.

The troop meeting was very short Friday. At 8:30, Dr. Brandes gave the Scouts of all three troops a talk on First Aid. This was appreciated very much.

Troop No. 2 challenged Troop No. 1 to any sort of a contest such as base ball, hand ball or indoor ball. The following birds have been reported:

Fox Patrol: Lark Bunting, Bank Swallow, Black Tern.
Wolf Patrol: Black and White Warbler, Black Polled Warbler, Yellow-headed Blackbird, Western Yellowthroat.
Eagle Patrol: Warbled Goldfinch, and Golden crowned Kinglet.

COST OF EDUCATION

Take it out on the schools seems to be the slogan of the tax reductionists. Just why the schools are singled out has never been justified. A survey of expenditures in the various political subdivisions will show that in most instances the school districts are not the worst offenders and that on the part of school officials there has been an honest attempt to cut down expenditures. Of course this does not apply to our institutions of higher education where wasteful duplications are adding heavily to the burdens of government. Money spent duplicating courses at Fargo and Grand Forks applied to the common schools would bring a rich return in extending elementary education to the masses.

Actual figures on the cost of education considered per se without comparison seem high. In the United States there was spent in 1910, $498,019,738 and in 1920 the cost had soared to $1,219,885,296. These figures were gathered recently by the Educational Finance Inquiry under the auspices of the American Council of Education.

But the increase when compared with mounting costs in other fields is not disproportionate. Total governmental expenditures have increased four-fold; national defense in 1920 was ten times what it was in 1910 due of course to the war; highway expenditures have nearly tripled.

The increase in the cost of education in 1920 over 1910 was 145 per cent. Rents went up 175 per cent; commodities, 154; building materials, 184; and building labor 203. These contrasts establish the fact that educational costs in comparison are really low.

If the tax reductionists wanted really to lower taxes in North Dakota a study of payroll expenditures would be edifying. Weed out the unnecessary employees attached to the payroll of every political subdivision. Check up purchases of supplies and install business methods in the purchasing departments. There are a hundred ways that will yield greater tax reduction than curtailing expenditures for education.

CARDS

Four veteran card players are written up in Boston. Every Friday for 35 years they have been meeting for a game of "45." And they haven't yet decided which is champion. The Chinese go them one better, frequently dragging a chess game through several generations.

A near-sighted critic has figured up how many hours the four card players have wasted. To claim the time is wasted, is ridiculous. There is no better investment of time than a reasonable period devoted to relaxation, especially a hobby. One purpose of life is to be happy. Work is only a means to an end, not the primary goal.

WATER

France is hauling 32 million tons of freight a year on her rivers and canals. Here in America we ship more than that on our Great Lakes. But river and canal traffic is in its infancy. It had a big start long ago, especially on the Ohio and Mississippi. Railroads came and took business from the rivers. But river traffic is reviving rapidly. Property developed, and coupled with an elaborate system of canals, we'd have water routes that would by competition compel the steam railroads to be more efficient or perish.

Water is one key to the transportation problem.

PLUNGERS

In 1919 and 1920 seven and a half billion dollars worth of new oil stocks were offered to investors.

New oil stock issues now are averaging about 75 million dollars a month, or not quite a billion a year. Public learned a bitter lesson.

Some oil stocks are good investments, undoubtedly. But many others are not, as investors with singed wings will testify. More money has gone into the ground in recent years than was taken out.

ALCOHOL

A tragedy of the sea: The steamer Maria, liquor laden, ran into a tropical storm after leaving Havana. Her coal gave out. As a substitute fuel, the captain used the fire-water, $250,000 worth. Cargo counts for nothing when life is at stake. Tons of diamonds would be burned, if necessary, to get a ship to port.

When whisky can run the engines and drive a ship through a storm, a reader gets wondering if the day is coming when alcohol will take the place of gasoline as auto fuel. It already has, to considerable extent, in Cuba.

JEST

The announcer at KDKA said Adam was the first radio fan, since he made a loud speaker out of his rib. Critics are panning him now, claiming it's an old joke. What if it is? Old familiar jokes look best. And only the best survives, especially true of jokes. Furthermore, as in burlesque, a new generation is constantly growing up that has never heard the old stuff. Why are so many people bitter against old and established things? Is it vanity, this worshipping of the new?

QUITS RAILROADING

Engineer Tracy Wheeler quits railroading after 42 years, in which he piloted locomotives two and a half million miles. That's almost equivalent to 1000 trips across the continent.

At 70 he goes on the pension list. His has been a life of real service and big responsibility. A good job well done. Civilization is carried on the shoulders of men like Tracy Wheeler. They are far more important than the professional limelight posers, such as public affairs lunatics.

German elections seem reassuring. Returns would indicate that firmer hands were about to cope with the financial problems of that nation. The possibility of an acceptance of the principles, at least, of the Dawes report is strong.

NO IDLE WARNING

Since the Democrats of the Senate joined with the LaFollette radicals in putting over an amendment to the revenue bill which would open up all income tax returns to public inspection, it is interesting to note the reaction of the Democratic New York World to the proposal, and the warning it gives to the Senate:

It was accepted as a basic principle under the income tax law that all returns must be held strictly private by the Internal Revenue Bureau. Even other departments of the Government were not given access to them for official purposes. In jumping to the opposite extreme the Senate has acted ill-advisedly.

To make all tax returns public records open to inspection, as the Senate amendment provides, would work grave injustice and open the way for serious abuses. The purpose of the tax law is to raise revenue for the Government. It was never intended to serve as a means of spreading information about the methods or operations of individuals or corporations. To throw the returns open to inspection as public records is to invite sharp practices in business, for which the Government will be directly responsible.

Instead of adopting safeguards making more difficult dishonesty among taxpayers, the Senate is only adding another incentive to evasion. Three private tax returns will have been lowered for new forms of fraud and local trickery. It will not be long before the bootlegging of tax returns becomes a popular industry.

The one thing about which the country is really concerned is the reduction of taxes. It is impatient of delay. To the Senate it should be obvious that by every false or dubious move that it makes it gives Mr. Coolidge a fresh excuse for vetoing the bill on account of the rejection of the Mellon plan.

And the New York World is saying no idle warning when it intimates that every "false or dubious move" only makes a veto more probable. The country wants real, not spurious, tax reduction. It wants reduction which will relieve the burden of both direct and indirect taxation. The World might have added that unless Congress gives the country a plan which will conform to the Mellon plan in principle that it is giving the President the best possible issue with which to go before the voters in the campaign just ahead. ### THE MAN WHO BATTLES DEATH

Consider now the end of the physician of the little town of Goshen, N. D., who went out on December 11, 1921, to answer a sick call and who never returned. That is not quite right. If his recrudescence may be considered in the light of return. When the waters of the Rhyne creek were freed from ice and fell below their usual level, the top of an automobile came to light and farmer boys investigating found his dead body Monday sitting in the car with the implements with which he fought death crumpled around it. He had been hurrying on the call through the darkness and failed to see that "death" was "out" and drove on his doomed way and into the lethal waters.

There has been at times a spirit of scorn in the attitude of some who knew no better, for the country physician. He was not up-to-date, a bit foggy, and lacked the time to keep abreast with the marvelous march of medical progress. But to wrest a living out of his arduous practice, he must have a vision of social service as the guide and recompense. We have not sneered so much at him since Ian MacLaren wrote "A Doctor of the Old School" or since J. M. Barrie drew the picture of "Dr. McLean" in "The Little Minister." These made us see what we should have seen without their aid, the homely figure far too shabby to be heroic, too worn to elicit our admiration, in a daily battle with the master of all monsters—Death.

For the tragic death of Dr. Fred E. Pyle, of Goshen, we see something of the consciousness of the lives of those who arrive and who serve, and who live and who die, unknown and unnamed.—St. Paul Dispatch.

RYE TO YIELD BETTER REPORT OF OBSERVER

However, Total Winter Crop To Be Harvested, Will Be Less Than Last Year

SEEDING GOES AHEAD

Progress Better Than One Year Ago, Says U. S. Agricultural Statistician

Grand Forks, May 13.—Although the May 1 condition of North Dakota's winter rye crop promises a better yield per acre than that of the 1921 crop the acreage to be harvested will be about 26 per cent less than last year according to the May 1 crop report issued by J. G. Diamond, of Grand Forks, agricultural statistician for the federal division of crop and livestock estimates. The 1921 crop was estimated at 10,197,000 bushels compared with 10,046,000 in 1920 and 13,219,000 bushels the 1917-1921 average. Final out-turn of this year's crop it is pointed out will be larger or smaller than the May 1 forecast according as conditions developing during the remainder of the season prove more or less favorable to the spring seeding and planting according to the report was completed by May 1, compared with 32 per cent a year ago and the 10 year average of 51, while the per cent of plowing for spring planting and seeding completed by May 1, is placed at 65 per cent, compared with 45 per cent a year ago and the 10 year average of 57. Livestock losses during the past year from disease were about average, and from exposure were unusually light while the spring condition of livestock is average, as shown by the report. Details follow:

Rye Crop Prospect
Out of a fall sown acreage of 1,005,000 there is estimated to remain for harvest according to our May 1 estimate, 953,000 acres, compared with 1,288,000 acres harvested in 1921 and 1,570,000 acres the 1917-21 average. May 1 condition is placed at 81 per cent of a normal compared with 83 a year ago and 87 the 10 year average condition on May 1. The present condition represents a gain of 4 points over that of a month ago as a result of favorable April moisture. Abandonment has been less than expected, the crop now showing fairly good stands in places where a month ago it appeared killed out. The present condition interprets a yield of about 10.7 bushels per acre, forecasting a production of 10,197,000 bushels compared with 10,046,000 in 1921 and 13,219,000 the 1917-21 average. Final out-turn may be larger or smaller than this forecast according as conditions developing during the remainder of the season may prove more or less favorable to the crop than average. In the past 17 years final out-turns have been 6 times above once the same and 10 times below the May 1 forecasts.

Plowing And Seeding

Although field work in North Dakota obtained an early start some of the advantages were lost during April when there were too many days with rain to permit progress for more than a few days at a time, and during the last week heavy rains and snows checked field work entirely. Progress, however, has been much better than a year ago and is above the average as measured by the percentage of plowing and seeding completed by May 1. Our reports show 56 per cent of spring seeding and planting to be completed by May 1, compared with 32 per cent a year ago and the 10 year average of 51. The percent of plowing for spring seeding and planting that was completed by May 1, is placed at 65 per cent compared with 45 per cent a year ago and the 10 year average of 57. Completed with recent years the present season compared closely with that of 1921 when 67 per cent of seeding and planting and 71 per cent of plowing was reported completed by May 1. The year 1918 on this basis had the earliest spring when 70 per cent of seeding and 73 per cent of plowing were completed by this date, while 1915 was a close second.

INDIA NEEDS SCIENCE

Calcutta, May 13.—More science and less politics, this is the remedy prescribed for Indian unrest by Viscount Leverhulme who recently arrived here from England. He was optimistic regarding India's future, but condemned the policy of tariff protection as economically unsound.

"I don't think the people of India are suited to working in factories," Lord Leverhulme said. "They seem to be built for the open air. Industry in concentrated form is more suited to a temperate climate. One thing India does want badly is the application of science, engineering and business principles. More science and less politics. I should say, are the great needs of India. If she applied scientific principles to her agriculture, the increased yield would bring her health and prosperity. I would lay up her unemployed and bring her the contentment which she seeks politically."

But if the government of India put on protection, it will go the way of living. A lot of cost of living lies at the root of a people's well-being. If living is made dearer, a vicious circle will be created. "I believe with President Coolidge that the business of a manufacturer is not altogether to produce goods, but that it is also to produce men, do not claim for co-partnership that it will decrease strikes and create contentment. But I do claim that it produces men, creates ambition and arouses interest and energy."

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO RUTH ELLINGTON

DEAR RUTH:

Well, here I am in the bosom of my family, and one of them at least seems absolutely a stranger to me.

My dear, dear, those pearls have bubbled up again. Although Karl has given Alice a magnificent string which cost a hundred thousand dollars, I have reason to believe that she covets mine as well. The other night she and Karl and I were sitting alone at a restaurant table. Alice had made such a fuss about her pearls that out of sheer perverseness I put that string of mine on. The moment her eyes caught them, a peculiar look came on her face, and she said in a rather tight-lipped manner to Karl:

"Karl, dear, now that I see Leslie's pearls, I think they are more beautiful than mine. Of course her string is not as long, but the pearls seem of better quality."

"Karl looked very uncomfortable, and I tried to change the subject of conversation by saying:

"Did you and your friend, Betty Stokely, ever finish that novel you were writing?"

"No," she answered. "Betty, you know, married a title, and you got in such a mixup with your pearls that I didn't dare write it up for fear John would find it out."

"Any time you want to sell your string, Leslie, I'm quite sure Karl will repurchase them for me."

"I couldn't think of it," said Karl

hastily. "You know, of course, Alice, that if you want another string of pearls I shall be glad to buy them for you, but that string that Leslie has on is concerned with associations only of her."

"Alice looked furious, and Karl miserable. For a moment I wished that I could throw my pearls at her. I have never worn them that they haven't brought me some annoyance or ill luck."

Nothing more, however, was said about them during the supper, but when I got to my room that night, Alice came through the connecting door. She looked gorgeously beautiful in a pink chiffon velvet negligee, but there was a frown on her face and she fairly towered above me.

"Leslie," she said, "I've come to ask a favor of you. I want you to give me that string of pearls that Karl gave you, for my wedding present."

"I must have looked surprised at her request, for she continued:

"I don't care if Karl asked you not to give them to me. I don't care if you do think I'm jealous of Karl. I am not happy when I see his pearls about your neck and know that he bought them one by one over the long years that he loved you, while mine, though perhaps more expensive was the ordinary gift that a 'man' who had plenty of money might make to some woman who wanted them."

"What shall I do, Ruth? Shall I give them to her?"

GIVE SPECIAL EDUCATION FOR FOREIGN TRADE

New York, May 13.—For the first time in the history of American foreign trade, business men, students and heads of colleges and universities will be brought together at the Eleventh National Foreign Trade Convention in Boston, June 4, 5 and 6, for the purpose of improving the foreign trade career.

Announcement was made yesterday of the program which has been arranged for the convention of this nature, which is an attempt to reform student courses in a practical manner to the profit of both employer and foreign worker.

Investigation of this career, which has been made during the past winter by the National Foreign Trade Council, the organ of the American Foreign Trade Association, has revealed a lack of coordination between employers and the sixty-four universities and colleges in the United States training men for a foreign trade career.

It is stated, on the one hand, that there are many thousands of positions in the overseas business of the some twenty-four thousand American foreign trade business organizations, but that to date no adequate means has been evolved for finding out what the employers require in making a fit man for a fit job.

The importance of this subject, education for foreign trade, in respect to the entire convention, is shown by the fact that this subject will lead the entire group session program, beginning the afternoon of the first day of the convention. T. R. Snavely, chairman, School of Economics, University of Virginia, will open this session by an address on "What Should Be Included in a Single General Course on Foreign Trade." This will be followed by practical discussion of "Putting the Foreign Trade Student to Work," beginning with, "The Need For a Solution," by Eugene Van Cleaf, chairman, Foreign Commerce Division, Ohio State University. He will be followed by J. Hanson, chairman, Foreign Commerce, New York University, who will discuss "European Practices."

Chauncey D. Snow, manager, Foreign Commerce Department, Chamber of Commerce of the United States of America, will then explain "How Chambers of Commerce and Trade Organizations Can Assist." Lastly, Henry Howard, chairman, Foreign Trade Committee, Cleveland Chamber of Commerce, will open the employers' side of the question by saying "What Business Men Think About It."

ENJOYED A GOOD NIGHT'S SLEEP? FOLLY! If you haven't, you've worked O. K. on me in a couple of hours and the points left me at once. I took a couple of them in the afternoon, went to bed and had a good night's sleep and have slept good ever since," writes Con Thiel, 118E, Columbia St., Fort Wayne, Indiana. FOLLY PILLS, a diuretic stimulant for the kidneys, will thoroughly flush the kidneys and increase their activity.

Tom Sims Says

Women who know how to raise children are kept too busy to tell.

A summer resort is a place where everybody is from somewhere.

New York is a place where you can live all your life and still feel you are away from home.

This is the time of the year the college seniors worry over how much money bricklayers are making.

The balance of power in Europe depends chiefly upon their balance of mind.

We like winter better than summer because the flies don't.

If they don't hurry up with these political conventions the weather will be too warm to worry over who is nominated.

Many summer resorts advertise as the playground of the nation; when, really, the front porch is that.

In Los Angeles, a man was arrested for spanking his wife. Business had their advantages.

Girls! Use Lemon To Whiten Skin

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Olay White, when many druggists will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself.

CINCINNATI GOES IN LEAD IN NATIONALS

Take Place Over New York as Giants Lose While the Reds Win

Chicago, May 13.—The Cincinnati Reds took the lead in the National League race from John McGraw's Giants, by defeating Philadelphia, 4 to 1, while the St. Louis Cardinals were beating New York, 5 to 3.

Donahue pitched well for Cincinnati, while Jeff Pfeffer pitched the Cardinals to victory over Dean McGraw's costly recruit. In the other National League contest, Brooklyn defeated the Chicago Cubs, 7 to 3. Zack Wheat's two doubles and Hughson home run featured. Vance pitched the Dodgers victory.

Rain halted American League contests.

"Tillie" Walker got a home up in the ninth inning in Minneapolis, which broke up a pitcher's battle in the American Association, and gave the Millers a win over Indianapolis, 4 to 3. Dixon and Boone for St. Paul got home runs which aided the Saints in defeating Louisville, 8 to 3.

Japanese Prince Going To Olympics

Tokio, May 13.—Marquis Kuniyoshi Kuni, younger son of Prince Kuniyoshi Kuni and brother of the crown prince, will attend the Olympic Games at Paris this summer. Marquis Kuni will visit France in the course of a journey around the world. Although born a scion of one of the imperial houses, this young man recently relinquished his princely title and took that of a marquis.

McGraw Enthusias Over Young Dean In Debut Effort

By NEA Service
New York, May 13.—"The most impressive game I have ever seen as a recruit pitcher."

So remarked Manager John McGraw of the New York Giants after Pitcher Wayland Dean had beaten Brooklyn 3 to 2 in 10 innings, in his National League debut.

It is questionable if any rookie pitcher ever turned in a more remarkable ball game in his first major league appearance.

In the first inning he was batted for two home runs, clean, hard drives into the left and right field bleachers at the Polo grounds.

Such a greeting is enough to throw even a veteran star off his poise. It didn't seem to disturb Dean in the least.

After a poor getaway he settled down, and for nine innings blanketed the Brooklyn club, being returned the victor in the extra session.

Dean's ball went down into history. After being struck for two home runs in the first inning, he allowed only two hits in the next eight sessions.

In the tenth and final inning he again found himself in trouble. Two hits and a pass in the extra inning filled the bases with only one out, yet he kept the Dodgers from scoring.

"Winning a ball game like that should make Dean, if there was any previous doubt as to his ability," is the way McGraw sums up the kid pitcher's opening game.

The Nut Cracker

BY JOE WILLIAMS
STRAIGHT DOPE BENNY ON THE RADIO

If your Uncle Samuel wants to keep the Japs away from the horrors and handicaps of this country, that's his business. Personally, I ain't no more interested in the matter than Battling Siki would be in an empty gin bottle.

But why start and stop with the rice inhalers? As long as Samuel has gone in for high-balling in a serious way he ought to slam the star-spangled doors shut in the faces of ALL alien annoyances, to wit:

- 1—Lecturers with superior airs and inferior bank balances, who come here and tell us where to get off, and why monacles should never be worn in shower baths.
- 2—French pugs who say they'll fight at the drop of a hat and then drop at the sight of a left hook.
- 3—Wild bulls of the Pampas and other varieties of bunkered cattle that feast contentedly if not appreciatively, on the long green.
- 4—Russian revues that show us what subtle comedy really is thereby increasing our appreciation for Ben uppin.
- 5—Long-eared philosophers who talk of the soul of America and wind up by having a check cashed.
- 6—German wrestlers who run mainly to double chins and triple defeats.
- 7—Crusading statesmen with a message, always sent collect.
- 8—ALL PEOPLE WHO COMMENT, "NOW IN THE COUNTRY WHERE I COME FROM."

Suzanne Lenglen will take the oath for the French Olympic athletes, but the boys will have to take the wallpings themselves.

We only have to wait six more months until the Yankees and the Giants get together and settle this master mind business again.

Johnny Dundee says he will not retire undefeated and there are any number of active young gentles in the game willing to see that he is not disappointed.

"Meeting Dempsey is the one big chance I have been waiting for," says Harry Wills. Now you can understand the peculiar psychology of the man who laughs on the way to the death chair.

When all else fails, Kellogg's Bran relieves constipation. If eaten regularly, it is guaranteed to relieve permanently the most chronic cases, or your grocer will return your money. For Kellogg's is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective.

Doctors recommend Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. They know it brings results. It sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine. It rids the system of those dangerous poisons which lead to other diseases.

Eat at least two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's Bran daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. You will like the wonderful, nut-like flavor. Eat it with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Try it in the recipes given on every package. Kellogg's Bran is served by leading hotels and clubs. Sold by all grocers.

Gasoline Prices Lowest

AFTER extensive analysis of government statistics, The Oil & Gas Journal, of March 20, 1924, says:

"Gasoline is and has been the lowest priced commodity generally used during the past eleven years, and its average cost during that period has been always lower than the average price of all commodities."

Taking 1913 price level as 100, the January, 1924, price level of all commodities is 151—while the price of gasoline is only 97.

Thus it is shown that in January, 1924, the dollar would actually buy more gasoline than it would in 1913.

The statement of the Oil & Gas Journal bears out the statements oft repeated by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) that the price of gasoline is low.

That the petroleum industry has been able to keep down the price of gasoline is an achievement worthy of note.

It demonstrates the efficiency of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) and other similar institutions.

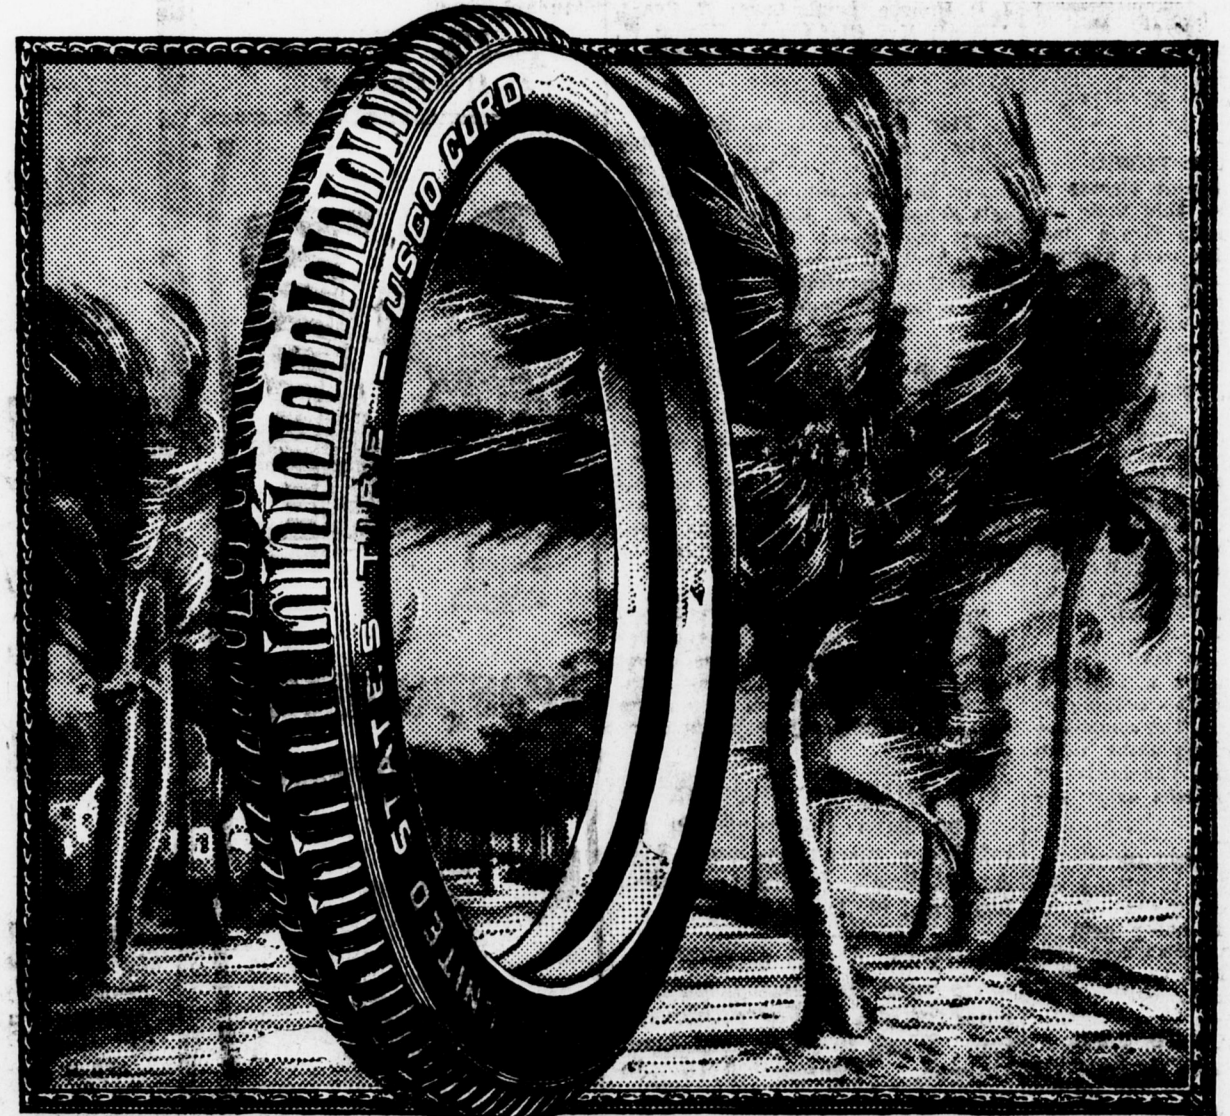

This result has been accomplished without in any way sacrificing quality of product, nor has it been accompanied by any decrease of service.

For example, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is constantly expanding its vast network of service stations, located, necessarily, on high-priced property in order to be accessible to the main arteries of travel. These stations are open for service, days, evenings, Sundays and holidays.

In addition, huge sums of money have been expended by this Company for other equipment—bulk storage depots, pumps, tank wagons, and other items necessary to render a complete and comprehensive service—yet with all these large expenditures the price level of gasoline in 1924 was lower than in 1913.

All of which is in support of the ideals animating the Management of this Company—a combination of high quality, best service, and low prices.

THE quality that makes the Usco Cord an outstanding value didn't just happen.

It was the result of a determination on the part of the oldest and largest rubber organization in the world to set a new standard in medium priced tire equipment.

It begins on the company's plantations in the Far East where 5,000,000 carefully selected rubber trees furnish latex for the new patented latex process of treating cords.

It follows through every method used in their manufacture.

It ends only when every economy in distribution through thousands of dealer outlets has been effected.

Car owners find the Usco Cord a handsome easy-steering tire giving positive traction and non-skid protection with many added qualities of strength and service. Ask your dealer.

U. S. Tires are the only tires in the world made of cords solutioned in raw rubber latex.

Gets Poppy To Bloom At Night

San Francisco, May 13.—Thanks to Luther Burbank, the plant wizard of Santa Rosa, Cal., the wild poppies of California for the first time are growing social functions at night with their petals open. Hereafter the golden petals closed themselves at sundown.

A San Francisco matron recently complained to Mr. Burbank that it was a shame poppies had to go to sleep so early in the evening. Mr. Burbank experimented, and as a result he gave her this advice:

Stalk the poppies of their fair just before daybreak, while their petals still are closed. Then place them on ice for the day. In the evening the flowers, put in water and exposed to the warm air of a drawing room, will again gracefully open their petals and expand their loveliness for all beholders.

He said the same treatment could be adapted for other night-closing flowers.

CHICAGO'S FAREWELL TO WANDA STOPA!

Ten thousand morbidly curious men, women and children crowded into Chicago's "Little Poland" for the funeral of Wanda Stopa. Five thousand more waited three, four, and even five hours at the cemetery just to catch a glimpse of the casket. Here is a section of the crowd that jammed the street in front of the Stopa apartment while the services were in progress. In the circle a police detail is seen keeping back the lines as the casket is being lifted into the hearse. A peanut vendor did a thriving business through the crowd. Old school chums served as pallbearers and carried the floral offering that marked friends' sympathy for the girl who ended her life after she had killed Henry home of the man she loved, Y. Kenley Smith.

Czar's Cousin Now Lives With Spirits

By M. Therese Bonney
 NEA Service Writer

Paris, May 13.—Grand Duke Alexander, who, under the old order of events, might one day have ruled all Russia, has turned his back on things material.

Today the murdered czar's son-in-law, in line of succession to the Russian throne, is living in the "spirit world."

The man who once commanded the Russian fleets, and who was the center of brilliant social groups whenever he went, has renounced all worldly splendor.

His many honorary titles have been forgotten. And his medal-decked, gold-branded uniform has given way to a simple sack suit and soft collar.

A few years ago he might have dreamed of being Russia's political "tsar." But these fantasies have fled long since.

Today he confides his country's destiny to the spirits beyond the grave. He aspires to be old Russia's "spiritual dictator." He wants to bring about its "spiritual resurrection."

Every day and far into the night, he sits for hours at his work table, covering pages of foolscap with "messages" from the spirit world. These later are communicated to his "disciples."

Today Alexander is recognized as one of Europe's greatest spiritualists. He is a devoted friend of Conan Doyle, with whom he is in constant correspondence.

And he is planning a trip to America soon as a "bearer of a special message from the spirit world."

Christiania, May 13.—Plans for the construction of a railway in Iceland, from the capital town of Reykjavik to Olufsa, at the estimated cost of 7,000,000 crowns, have been completed by a Norwegian railroad engineer. It is not expected that work will begin before 1925.

National Park Surrounds Active Volcano of Lassen

San Francisco, May 13.—There will be four main entrances for government roadways into Lassen Volcanic National Park in northern California, it is announced here by George E. Goodwin, chief civil engineer of the National Park Service.

Survey for the park roads, and trails have been virtually completed, and Goodwin. They will open up one of the most picturesque and scenic districts in America, Lassen Peak being the only active volcano in the United States. Objects of interest for the first roads constructed will be the lake region in the southwestern corner of the park, the crater cone and its lava fields, the devastated area swept by the eruption of May, 1915, and the magnificent but little known Kings Canyon with its gemlike falls in the heart of the park.

Czar's Cousin Now Lives With Spirits

By M. Therese Bonney
 NEA Service Writer

Paris, May 13.—Grand Duke Alexander, who, under the old order of events, might one day have ruled all Russia, has turned his back on things material.

Today the murdered czar's cousin, next in line of succession to the Russian throne, is living in the "spirit world."

The man who once commanded the Russian fleets, and who was the center of brilliant social groups wherever he went, has renounced all worldly ambition.

His many honorary titles have been forgotten. And his medal-decked, gold-braided uniform has given way to a simple sack suit and soft collar.

A few years ago he might have dreamed of being Russia's political "savior."

Today he confides his country's destiny to the spirits beyond the grave. He aspires to be old Russia's "spiritual dictator."

He wants to bring about its "spiritual resurrection."

Every day and far into the night, he sits for hours at his work table, "messages" from the spirit world, "covering pages of foolscap with 'messages' from the spirit world. These later are communicated to his 'disciples'."

Today Alexander is recognized as one of Europe's greatest spiritualists. He is a devoted friend of Conan Doyle, with whom he is in constant correspondence.

And he is planning a trip to America soon as a "bearer of a special message from the spirit world."

ICELAND PLANS RAILROAD

Christiania, May 13.—Plans for the construction of a railway in Iceland, from the capital town of Reykjavik to Olufsa, at the estimated cost of 7,000,000 crowns, have been completed by a Norwegian railroad engineer. It is not expected that work will begin before 1925.

National Park Surrounds Active Volcano of Lassen

San Francisco, May 13.—There will be four main entrances for government roadways into Lassen Volcanic National Park in northern California, it is announced here by George E. Goodwin, chief civil engineer of the National Park Service.

Surveys for the park roads and trails have been virtually completed, said Goodwin. They will open up one of the most picturesque and scenic districts in America, Lassen park being the only active volcano in the United States. Objects of interest for the first roads constructed will be the lake region in the southeastern corner of the park, the Cinder cone and its lava fields, the devastated area swept by the eruption of May, 1915, and the magnificent but little known Kings Creek Canyon with its gemlike falls in the heart of the park.

CHICAGO'S FAREWELL TO WANDA STOPA!

Ten thousand morbidly curious men, women and children crowded into Chicago's "Little Poland" for the funeral of Wanda Stopa. Five thousand more waited three, four, and even five hours at the cemetery just to catch a glimpse of the casket. Here is a section of the crowd that jammed the street in front of the Stopa apartment while the services were in progress. In the circle a police detail is seen keeping back the lines as the casket is being lifted into the hearse. A peanut vendor did a thriving business through the crowd. Old school chums served as pallbearers and carried the floral offering that marked friends' sympathy for the girl who ended her life after she had killed Henry Manning, caretaker at the suburban home of the man she loved, Y. Kenley Smith.

McGraw Enthuses Over Young Dean In Debut Effort

New York, May 12.—"The most impressive name I have ever seen a recruit pitcher was."

So remarked Manager John McGraw of the New York Giants after Pitcher Wayland Dean had beaten Brooklyn 3 to 2 in 10 innings, in his National League debut.

It is questionable if any rookie pitcher ever turned in a more remarkable ball game in his first major league appearance.

In the first inning he was batted for two home runs, clean, hard drives into the left and right field bleachers at the Polo grounds.

Such a greeting is enough to throw even a veteran star off his poise. It didn't seem to disturb Dean in the least.

After a poor getaway he settled down, and for nine innings blanked the Brooklyn club, being returned the victor in the extra session.

Dean's debut will go down into history. After being struck for two home runs in the first inning, he allowed only two hits in the next eight sessions.

In the tenth and final inning he again found himself in trouble. Two hits and a pass in the extra inning filled the bases with only one out, yet he kept the Dodgers from scoring.

"Winning a ball game like that should make Dean, if there was any previous doubt as to his ability," is the way McGraw sums up the kid pitcher's opening game.

Get at the root of the trouble. Rubbing an aching back may relieve it.

But won't cure it if the kidneys are weak.

You must reach the root of it—the kidneys.

Dean's Pills go right at it; Reach the cause; attack the pain. Are recommended by many Bismarck people.

Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. J. W. Moran, Sonny Brook Dairy Farm, Bismarck, says: "I had an operation for a floating kidney which was successful, but afterwards the other kidney became affected and I suffered for nearly a year with lameness across my back. I got so dizzy I couldn't stand. I went to the hospital and took treatments but got worse all the time. I read about Dean's Pills being good and got some. After using two boxes I was entirely well and have since stood kidney tests for insurance and passed O. K. thanks to Dean's Pills."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Dean's Pills—the same that Mrs. Moran had. Foster-Milburn Co. Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

But why start and stop with the rice inhalers? As long as Samuel has gone in for high-bating in a serious way he ought to slam the star-spangled doors shut in the faces of ALL alien annoyances, to wit:

2—French pugs who say they'll fight at the drop of a hat and then drop at the sight of a left hook.

3—Wild bulls of the Pampas and other varieties of bankrupt cattle that feast contentedly if not appreciatively, on the long green.

4—Russian revues that show us what subtle comedy really is thereby increasing our appreciation for Ben Hurpin.

Gasoline Prices Lowest

AFTER extensive analysis of government statistics, The Oil & Gas Journal, of March 20, 1924, says:

"Gasoline is and has been the lowest priced commodity generally used during the past eleven years, and its average cost during that period has been always lower than the average price of all commodities."

Taking 1913 price level as 100, the January, 1924, price level of all commodities is 151—while the price of gasoline is only 97.

Thus it is shown that in January, 1924, the dollar would actually buy more gasoline than it would in 1913.

The statement of the Oil & Gas Journal bears out the statements oft repeated by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) that the price of gasoline is low.

That the petroleum industry has been able to keep down the price of gasoline is an achievement worthy of note.

It demonstrates the efficiency of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) and other similar institutions.

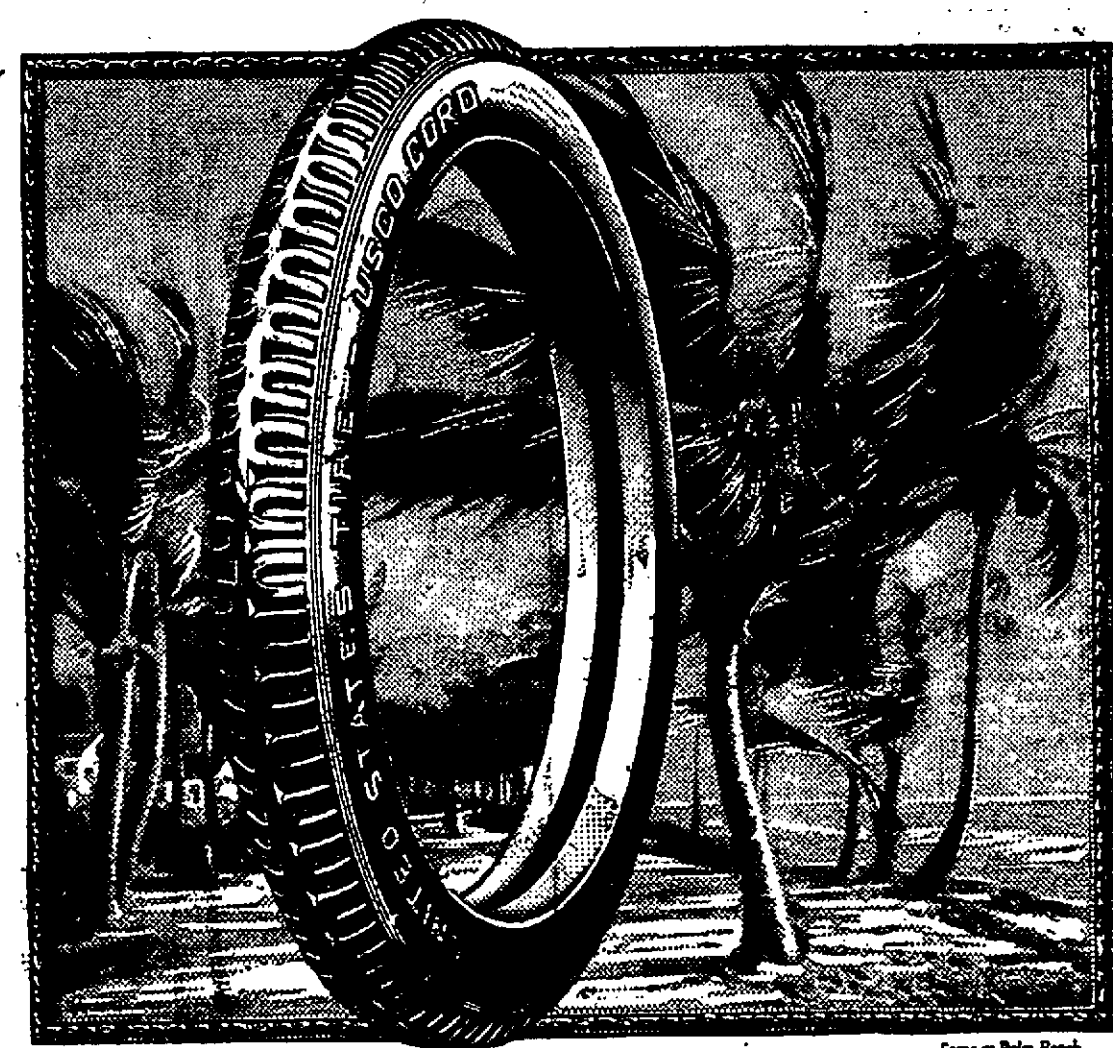

This result has been accomplished without in any way sacrificing quality of product, nor has it been accompanied by any decrease of service.

For example, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is constantly expanding its vast net-work of service stations, located, necessarily, on high-priced property in order to be accessible to the main arteries of travel. These stations are open for service, days, evenings, Sundays and holidays.

In addition, huge sums of money have been expended by this Company for other equipment—bulk storage depots, pumps, tank wagons, and other items necessary to render a complete and comprehensive service—yet with all these large expenditures the price level of gasoline in 1924 was lower than in 1913.

All of which is in support of the ideals animating the Management of this Company—a combination of high quality, best service, and low prices.

THE quality that makes the Usco Cord an outstanding value didn't just happen.

It was the result of a determination on the part of the oldest and largest rubber organization in the world to set a new standard in medium priced tire equipment.

It begins on the company's plantations in the Far East where 5,000,000 carefully selected rubber trees furnish latex for the new patented latex process of treating cords.

It follows through every method used in their manufacture.

It ends only when every economy in distribution through thousands of dealer outlets has been effected.

Car owners find the Usco Cord a handsome easy-steering tire giving positive traction and non-skid protection with many added qualities of strength and service. Ask your dealer.

U. S. Tires are the only tires in the world made of cords solution in raw rubber latex.

MARKET NEWS

WHEAT GAINS
EARLY TODAYMakes Some Advance Despite
Wavering Start

Chicago, May 13.—Despite a wavering start, moderate upturns in price soon took place in the wheat market today. The advance was chiefly due to scattered buying based on opinion that something of a reaction was to be looked for after two days decline. The sides selling was checked by liberal shipments from Chicago, the decrease in Canadian stocks and by uncertainty about farm legislation at Washington. Opening figures, which ranged from one-eighth cent off to 3/4 cents up with May $1.04 1/4 and July $1.05 to $1.05 1/2, were followed by a slight sag and then gains all around.

Subsequently announcement that the loss of wheat acreage in Illinois is the heaviest in years had a bullish effect and so, too, did wintry weather in Canada as well as enlarged estimates of European requirements. The close was firm, 1/2 to 3/4 cents not higher, May $1.04 1/2 to $1.04 3/4 and July $1.05 1/2 to $1.06 1/4.

In this district no building shall exceed 60 feet, or four stories in height; there shall be a front yard having a depth of not less than 10 percent of the lot depth, the depth of the yard, however, need not exceed 15 feet; the rear yard shall be not less than 10 feet nor less than equal to one-fifth the height of the building; in inside lots there shall be a rear yard having a depth of not less than 10 feet, nor less than equal to one-quarter the height of the building; there shall be a side yard on each side of not less than 10 percent of the lot width, but need not exceed six feet, provided its width shall be equal to one-eighth the height of the building.

Use of "B" residential district is restricted to:

Any use permitted in "A" residential district, institutions of an educational, philanthropic or eleemosynary nature, hospitals, hotels, boarding houses and lodging houses, clubs or lodges, convents, dormitories, family hotels, nurseries, farming and truck gardening, tenements, including accessories to these buildings not involving the conduct of a business and including also a community garage.

"C" District

"C" or Commercial District is bounded roughly as follows: On east by Tenth street, west by Washington Avenue, south by Northern Pacific Railway, north by Rosser street.

Restrictions applying to this district include: On corner lots there shall be a rear yard having a depth of not less than five feet, and on interior lots there shall be a rear yard having a depth of not less than 10 feet, nor less than equal to one-fifth the height of the building.

No building, with its accessories, shall occupy in excess of 85 percent of an inside lot, nor in excess of 95 percent of a corner lot above the level of a second story window sill.

Use of this district is forbidden to buildings for: slaughtering of animals or fowl, brick or tile manufacture, fat rendering, meat smoking or curing, foundry, iron or steel works or blacksmith shop, junk yard, storage or tanning of green, salted hides or skins or leather dressing; railroad yard or roundhouse, cigar, tobacco or snuff manufacture, automobile repair shop (with proviso), building material, storage yard; coal, coke or wood yard; dyeing and cleaning works, employing more than three persons, ice cream factory, ice storage, laundry employing more than five persons, livery stable, storage warehouse and similar industries or businesses.

It is provided that a public garage intended primarily for storage, with incidental repair facilities, may be established in this district, if there is on file in the office of the building inspector the written consent of the owners of 75 percent of all the property within two hundred feet of the site of such garage.

"D" District

"D" Industrial District is bounded as follows: Territory south of Northern Pacific Railway to Sweet street.

In this district no building shall exceed 60 feet or four stories in height, and there shall be a specified yard space with each building. The only uses of buildings prohibited in this district are: slaughtering of animals or fowl; distillation of beer or wood; manufacture of explosives, cement or lime manufacture, fat rendering, tallow, grease or lard manufacture.

The ordinance provides that there shall be a building inspector who would issue permits. It is provided that in interpreting the provisions of the ordinance, which is lengthy and contains many exceptions, it is provided that "in interpreting and applying the provisions of this ordinance they shall be held to be the minimum requirements for the promotion of the public safety, health, convenience, comfort, prosperity and general welfare."

PROFESSION OF NURSING WINS
HIGHEST HONORGovernor, In Address to Graduating Class, Praises
Women In It

DIPLOMAS ARE AWARDED

"History will show that the growth of the hospital service and the development of the nursing profession have come through the influence brought into the life of the nation by the principle of the Christian religion," Governor R. A. Nestos said last night in addressing the graduating class of St. Alexius Nurses' Training School, in the city Auditorium. The Governor, in his address, spoke of the development of hospitals and the nursing profession.

Eleven nurses received their diplomas last evening at the commencement exercises. The Auditorium was crowded with friends and relatives of the graduates and staff.

The stage was beautifully decorated with the use of streamers of the class colors combined with large American flags. Baskets of cut flowers were used in profusion about the stage and made a beautiful setting for the graduates in their white uniforms.

Splendid musical number were used throughout the program and Mr. Lampe and Miss Lampe opened the program with a violin and piano selection followed by a vocal solo by Mrs. Frank Burnes and a piano solo by Mrs. Arthur Bauer.

Praises Motto

The Governor praised the class motto, which is "In charity there is no excess," and applied it to the principles to be followed in their every day life. Urging not only the necessity of having the spirit for the profession but to receive the training necessary, the Governor said in part:

"In the first place, I am sure that this training has been for you a period of self-discovery. Education is largely that, as we become better acquainted with ourselves and with the physical, mental, and spiritual powers and possibilities we possess. 'Know thyself,' says the philosopher of old, and what was important then is true still. But you should not only know yourselves but you should know how to use yourselves to the best possible advantage in the realization of the great ideals and principles that govern your life and service. In this course I trust your sense perception has become keener, the faculties developed, and the mental powers increased. In many respects yours has been an ideal course. It combines the theoretical and the practical with the cultural influence of doing your life work in the true spirit of service. You have learned to know the human body, the course of diseases, and the nature and effect of the remedies to be applied. I am sure you have also learned to know something about the human mind and the psychological reactions of the patients under your care, and that you have come to realize that the attitude of the mind of the patient has much to do with his chances for a speedy recovery. I am sure that you have made the knowledge acquired a living part of yourselves because in the training of the nurse you follow the educational ideal advocated by Abraham Lincoln when he said that in the true preparation for life, labor and learning must go together, and the successful nurse is not only able but willing to also do the hard work that is required in order to render the best nursing service."

Requiem to be pronounced.

"You have reason to be proud of the history of your profession. In addition to the thousands of heroic souls concerning whom humanity in general has heard nothing, you have also developed many outstanding leaders whose services have been of the greatest value to the race and as men shall live. Some of these were doctors, some of these were nurses, but all have rendered their service in the spirit of the true nurse. Never will the human race forget the service of a Florence Nightingale, whose birthday we are celebrating today, a Clara Barton or of Sir Wilfred Grenfell, or a Dr. Trudeau. These are but a few of the outstanding spirits in the service, but the mention of their names alone is sufficient to call to your attention the wonderful work they have done and to show that when you enter your profession in the true spirit of Christian charity with a desire to give unselfish service, that you may also have the opportunity in your hospital, in your community, to render service that will help and inspire.

Frank Gale then sang a solo which was followed by the presentation of the diplomas by Bishop Wehrle. Alphonse Lampe rendered a violin solo and Miss Florence Connolly sang an excellent selection. Henry Davidson and George Humphreys sang several numbers.

Following the commencement exercises a reception was held for the graduates at the Nurses' class rooms at which about 150 of the nurses, relatives and friends were present. Refreshments were served and musical numbers rendered.

A view of the battle trenches. The entrance of the Yanks into Paris in 1917.

CAPITOL
"What Duse and Bernhardt were to the stage, Lillian Gish is to the screen," was the comment of John Barrymore, on "The White Sister" which is being shown at the Capitol Theatre.

"She can be compared with the great Bernhardt in brilliancy of performance and emotional projection," he declared.

Equals Best Efforts
"My memory of the best stage efforts of both Duse and Bernhardt is exceptionally clear, and I do not think that the screen performance of Miss Gish is excelled by anything that I have ever seen on the stage."

"To be sure, 'The White Sister' is a powerful drama, with many moments of intense pathos and exciting situations, but those are the very things that might cause an actress of lesser ability to overact. Instead, she rises to the opportunity to give the screen a performance that she did not achieve in "The Birth of a Nation." "Way Down East," "Orphans of the Storm," or any of her other big screen plays.
